Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Dry canyon except after rains, a couple of long rappels and the possibility of chaining R2 and R3 in a single 60m rappel. Better with a combination of cars and one of them 4×4 to get to the head, so we will save more than 4kms of access.
Almost a collector's item

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Take the N145 from Seu d'Urgell to Andorra. Before reaching the border we find a traffic circle on the left that leads to Civís, we take this road. Cross the bridge and turn left Civís and Alt Pirineu Natural Park.
After 4,7 kms we arrive at Sant Fumat where we will park the car to return.
If we have an access car we go up to Asnurri where we park the access car. If we had a high car or a 4×4 we can take a track that comes out after the left fork next to some cattle sheds. The track heads south towards the Roc de la Figuera and its impressive walls, here it turns east and just before a left fork on the track we will park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Same access as in 4×4. From here we only have to go down to the cut by the channel of Turó de la Garganta.

Tour: (machine translated)
A first part of rappels with 3 chained rappels, where we can do R2 and R3 together, then a rappel of 30 and after walking a few meters, reach the last vertical.

Return: (machine translated)
We will follow the dry riverbed until almost the Riu de Civís, here we will turn right and soon we will reach the road, right at the bridge that crosses the river.
