Specialities:
Gear:
Summary: (machine translated) Rappel canyon directly below an illegal garbage dump and a sewage treatment plant that overflows after heavy rainfall. For health reasons, we must urgently warn against visiting the site. That something like this still exists in modern Europe...
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) From Villagrande Strisaili follow the narrow slope to the parking entry.
Approach: (machine translated) The watercourse begins directly below the parking lot and the illegal garbage dump.
Tour: (machine translated) An actually beautiful ambience with several abseiling points including sea views becomes a health hazard due to heavily polluted, gray water. The equipment is only partially available and old.
Return: (machine translated) After the 26-metre-high waterfall, leave the stream to the right and head south up the slope. You will soon find a path that leads to a slope. Follow this to the parking lot. The beginning in particular is often overgrown.
