Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
One of the classics of the area, with a somewhat complicated access and a rather grassy exit. Beautiful rappels, especially the last one in a flying and an enviable environment. Obligatory combination of vehicles.
They say that if it is done with water it is spectacular for the two magnificent waterfalls that are created.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in Igueste, next to Candelaria.
Location of Igueste-Hondo ravines
We will go up Igueste to Ajoreña street (ascending), then Maja street,... up to La Jimena street, we will follow it until it becomes a dirt track, you can park next to a water tank. If we have a high car we follow the track another 100m until we meet the Araya canal.
The return vehicle will have been left on the TF-28 at p.k. 13,2 next to the bridge over the Los Poqueros river, next to the Agrícola bar.

Approach: (machine translated)
Access to the Igueste-Hondo ravine
By the water channel about 400m to reach the ravine.

Tour:
Ver topo

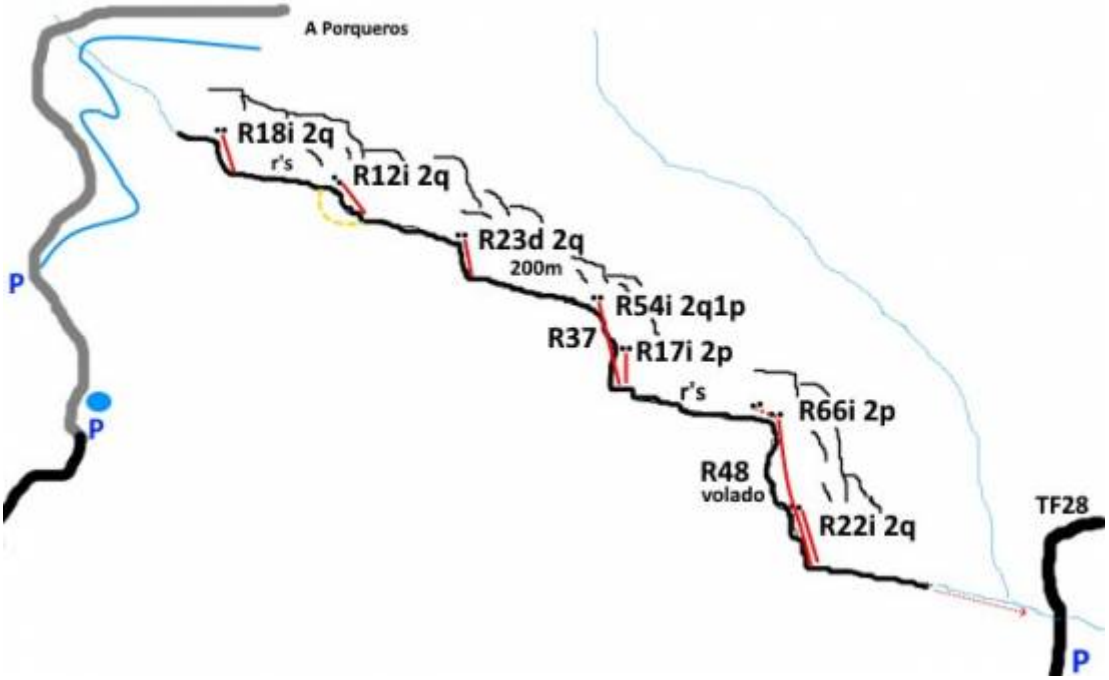

Return: (machine translated)
Continue along the ravine until near a house, take a path on the right side and then returns to the ravine. We passed through another farm and then we find a path that continues down and intersects with the path out of Los Porqueros. We continue to the road next to where we parked.
