Summary: (machine translated)
Simple canyon in the area of Tacoronte, in this case in El Pris. 5 dry rappels except for heavy rains with a maximum height of 35m.
Possibility of combination of vehicles, although there is not too much return route.
ATTENTION !! to the ticks (said by several local canyoning groups).

Access: (machine translated)
Locating us in Tacoronte
Bcos Tacoronte area
We will go NW direction by the TF165 to Guayonje, we will pass it and we will continue towards Mesa del Mar, after passing it, in the p.k. 3.7 we have the Prisamar street on the left, we get into it and go down to the 3rd sharp right turn, here we park the access car.
If we have a return vehicle we will go down to El Pris where we can park.

Approach: (machine translated)
From this curve there is a small path that goes to the riverbed, when you get to the riverbed you only have to descend until you find the first difficulty.
If we want to do the first 4 rappels we must go up the side to the first rappel, otherwise we enter R5.

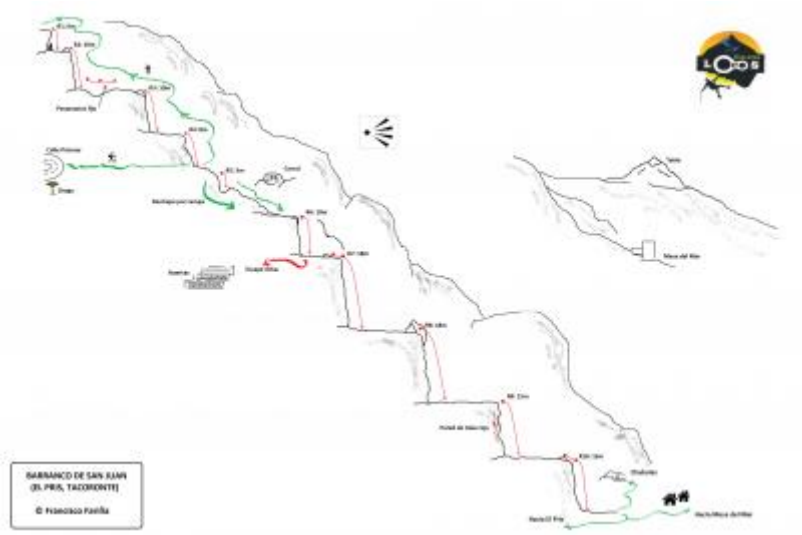

Tour: (machine translated)
5 rappels with rock installations. Good views of the cliffs in this canyon open to the sea.

Return: (machine translated)
When we reach the sea, we turn right to either of the two paths, depending on whether we have a return vehicle or not, down to the village parking lot and up to the upper vehicle.
