Summary: (machine translated)
Small gorge with beautiful karst formations and a peculiar return through the interior of the Cova Falsa, where we will make a small climb. The descent allows us to access from the water pool or after making the Torrent de l'Ullà. In spring or after rains we will find it with water.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We will take the C17 to Figaró.
Exit and continue along Carrer de Ribes to the bridge over the freeway (Pont de Montmany), where we turn left.
After crossing the bridge we reach the tracks and the Montmany signposts on the left.
We will follow this road for a few kilometers until we find in a left curve, the access to the tennis courts, we will continue and two left curves later we will have a small esplanade on the left where to park, right next to the Torrent de Rovira.

Approach: (machine translated)
Access bcos Montmany
We go back to the water pond, we will see some red marks that crosses the meadows to go down to the stream.

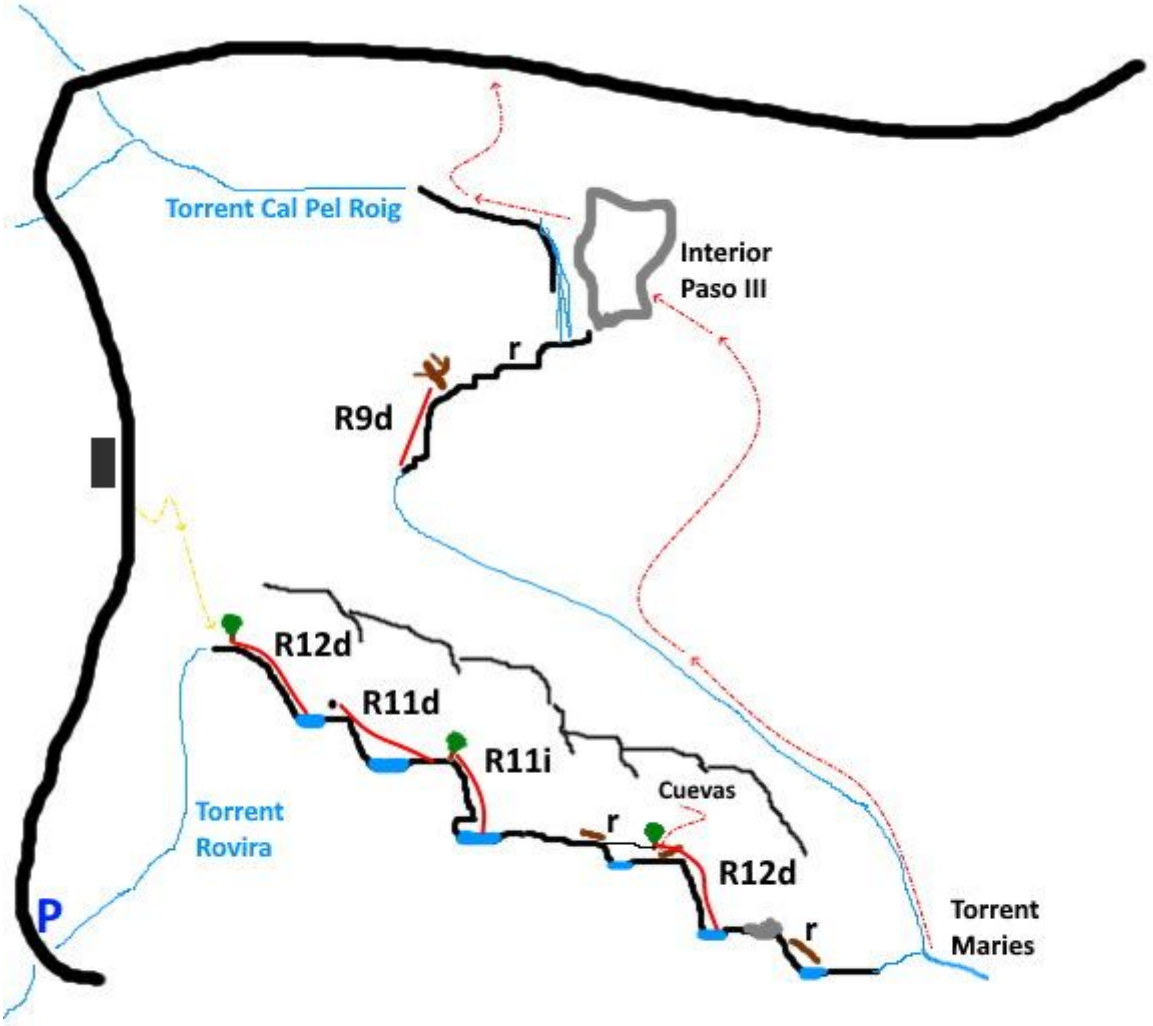

Tour: (machine translated)
A first part of rappels to enter the gorge where we will find the karst forms. A new rappel and a cliff will leave us at the confluence with the torrent of Cal Pel Roig where we will leave.

Return: (machine translated)
Through the torrent, inside the Cova Falsa, the light enters from the top allowing access and the small climb to overcome it. From here it only remains to climb to the road
