Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Dry canyon except after heavy rains. Between the banks of Lumos and Alpán, it is a small open descent, with vegetation, ledges and some abseiling. Arriving at Lumos we will find a nice and somewhat peculiar natural arch and the 18m rappel.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
On the highway from Huesca to Barbastro at exit 77 we go towards Abiego/Alquézar. Arriving at Abiego turn towards Adahuesca and from there to Alquezar.
On the Barbastro side of the A1232 going up the river Vero almost to Alquézar.
Shortly before reaching Alquezar we will turn off to Colungo and following this road towards Lecina, at pk 21.5 we will find on the left a track with a small esplanade where we can park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Accesses Lumos, Medio, Alpán and Trucho
From the parking lot by the track that descends to the south parallel to the road overpass the cirque of the ravine. We gently ascend a piece of hill and we will see a cairn and a path on the right that surrounds the cirque heading west, we will follow it. This first riverbed is Lumos, if we cross the divide we will be in Lumos 2, the third riverbed is Bco Medio and when the mountain range begins to descend we find the Alpán cirque with its accesses and after a small steep slope the access to the left tributary.

Tour: (machine translated)
Open and vegetated descent, if it has been too long without rain we can find the marmites and pools with stagnant water but generally they are easy to avoid.
Its final part is the best

Return: (machine translated)
For the return of Lumos
