Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Open ravine to be done after rains. Very short in its access and development, be careful if it brings a lot of water, since most of it is canyoned.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From the town of O Barco de Valdeorras (Ourense) we take the road to Sobradelo, and as soon as we cross the bridge over the river Sil, we enter the town of Viloira on the right. Once in the square, we continue straight ahead on a road that begins to climb, and whose entrance indicates among other things "Fervenza", the name of the village we have to reach. After 4 km of road, on which we will find a couple of well signposted detours, we arrive at the village in question. We can park next to the fountain in a small square in the center of the village.

Approach: (machine translated)
By the mill at the lower part of the village

Tour: (machine translated)
Open descent, with only 5 waterfalls that are installed in trees. To do after rains and combine with some other in the area.

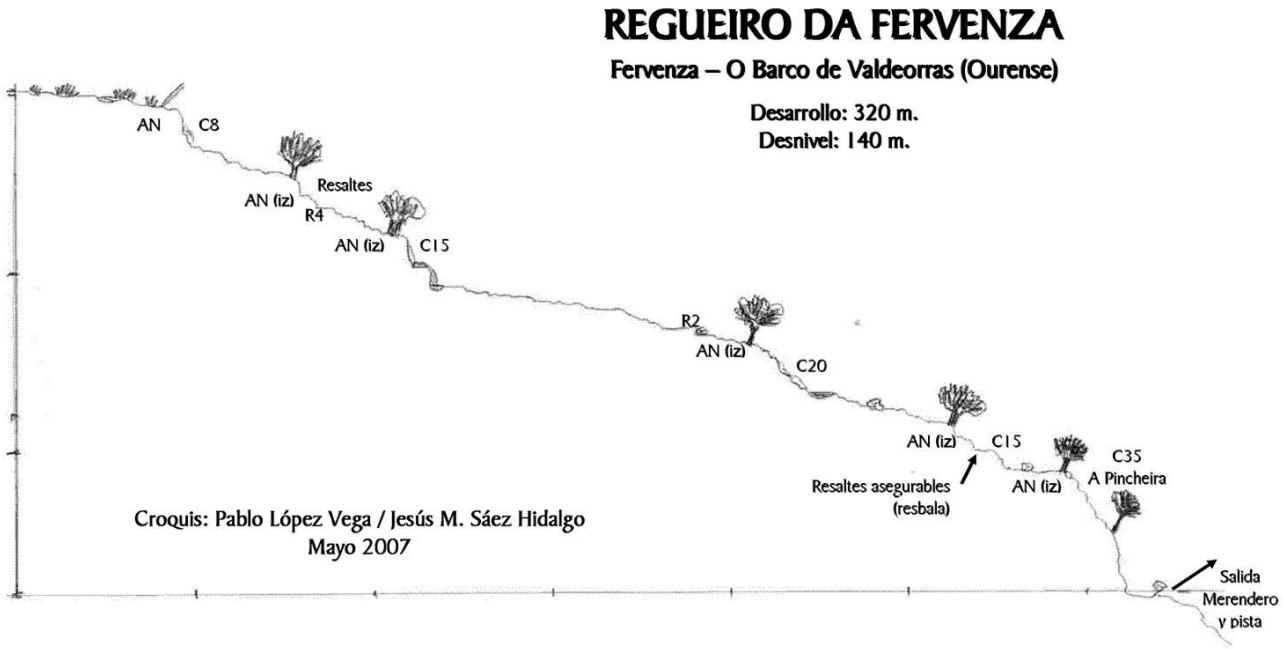

Return: (machine translated)
You go out to the track of the picnic area. You only have to go up to the village
After the last and longest rappel, you will see on the left hand side a path with handrails, which leads to a picnic area, continue climbing until there is a crossroads, turn left towards the village of Fervenza.
PR-G 271 Ruta da Santa compaña, passes through these points.

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 42.3947 -7.0281
