Summary: (machine translated)
Nice canyon with rappels, almost always dry and with good views. Better out of summer or in hours without heat.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Marbella on the A7176 towards Istán. Shortly before p.k. 9 we have a small esplanade on the left and about 100m before we have on the right a track that goes up. We will get into it that climbs in an easterly direction up the mountain. After a kilometer we have a sharp left turn, wide, with a path on our right. We park.

Approach: (machine translated)
A path goes up the slope in a northeasterly direction, after 400m it turns south and 200m later the path turns to the east and heads towards the headwaters.

Tour: (machine translated)
A simpler first part to go to the rappel zone with the rappels in the trap.

Return: (machine translated)
When we reach the end of the last rappel we will see a path that crosses us and that we will take to the right, shortly we will be in the parking place.
