Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Adventure canyon in the Chinipro area, with possible access from the GR11 or from the access path to La Larri.
Provide installation material because it has opening facilities.
Unbeatable environment, wonderful views and entertaining this hard and long canyon access.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Ainsa we will go towards France (A-138) and when we get to Bielsa (before going through the tunnel), we turn left towards the Parador Nacional de Pineta. Continue along the road until you reach the base of the cirque, about 500m before the Parador. On the left we have a parking lot

Approach: (machine translated)
From the parking and following the GR (red and white marks) we continue along the signs that indicate Llanos de La Larri. When we reach the plains we see in front of us the ravine of La Larri and a path that zig-zags up the slope. At about 1900m the path continues to the north and we look for a lost path to the east to gain altitude to the ravine at almost 2000m above sea level.
Another option is to follow the GR towards the Estiva and before arriving to take direction N towards the ravine, we will pass under some walls, quite characteristic, which are the buttresses of Chinipro.

Tour: (machine translated)
Alpine canyoning with opening equipment

Return: (machine translated)
The ravine ends in the plains of La Larri, we will take the uphill path to go back down it.
