Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Short canyon with only one highlight: 95m waterfall in remote area.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated) from Tolmezzo to Villa Santina. In the town turn southwest on the SS52 and follow it for about 9km until the bridge over the Tagliamento (between the towns of Mediis and Priuso). Immediately after the bridge, take Viale Dante (SR552) on the left towards the south, which you follow for 7km until you reach another bridge over the Tagliamento. Before the bridge, on the right, a gravel road begins that follows along the banks of the Tagliamento until it is forbidden to drive. Park here! If your car is too good for the washed-out road, you can leave it already in the area of the bridge.

Approach: (machine translated)
Continue along the gravel road, which becomes a forest road. After about 2km of trail, in a hairpin bends at 710m above sea level, turn left onto a barely visible animal trail that descends gently into the streambed.

Tour: (machine translated)
After some rappeling and rappeling you come to the highlight of the tour: the 95m waterfall with rappel stand orographic right. Crossing the waterfall, one finds after 55m on the left a hanging stand from which it goes another 45m into the depth. The rest to the confluence with the Tagliamento is just a river walk.

Return: (machine translated) best to drift down the Tagliamento to the car.
