Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Also known as Chigarafa de Abajo, the third of the Chigarafa, it is a vertical canyon like its neighbors, with very few breaks, long rappels and much danger of landslides, better to avoid rainy days and / or wind. Terrain for people with experience.
Access by the beautiful path of the windows of Güímar.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in Güímar
With the return vehicle we follow the TF28 until the p.k. 27.5 where the road to Barranco Badajoz leaves to our right (southbound). It is normal to park at the kilometer marker, at the turnoff to the road to Zarzales. Although we can try to park further on
We will continue along the TF28 until almost the p.k. 30 to turn off to the right onto the track that takes us up to the windows of Güímar by the track of Anochezca. Very famous and somewhat dangerous path through the channel in which we will have to go through its tunnels.

Approach: (machine translated)
Through the channel of the windows of Güimar, after the 4th tunnel we have the first anchorage a few meters below, if the ground is wet we can secure ourselves in a tree up to R1.

Tour: (machine translated)
See mole

Return: (machine translated)
We will follow the ravine to the Badajoz ravine, we will follow it until we find the track that leads us to the place where we have parked.

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 28.2930 -16.4322
Canyon End 28.3033 -16.4353
