Specialities:

Gear:
Ropes: 2x 30m

Summary: (machine translated)
An almost unbroken series of waterfalls, most of which are taller than 20 meters.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Since there's very little water flowing above the GR: In nice weather, a Long John, Lycra, and a rain jacket are enough.

Access: (machine translated)
As in Argensous: Park by the roadside near the information sign across from the bridge below the village of (H)ourre.

Approach: (machine translated)
Approach as for the lower part of the Argensou (blue trail markers): 150 m before the “classic” starting point, before the trail descends to the stream, take the well-marked path that initially follows a low wall and then leads uphill toward the GR10. Follow the GR along the paved canal to the Argensou.

Tour: (machine translated)
An almost uninterrupted series of waterfalls, most of which are taller than 20 meters.

Good selection of AN anchor points or anchor bolts. The last anchor point is in poor condition.
Location: Southeast—best to visit early in the morning, starting in April...

Return: (machine translated)
You can continue directly to the lower section or return in a few minutes via the “classic” trail (blue markers)

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 42.7280 1.4467
Canyon End 42.7265 1.4504

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Argensou (moyen) Gros débit à 15h, tout seul et ne connaissant pas le canyon j'ai assuré de nombreux passages à l'aide d'arbre et j'ai souvent évité l'actif dans les grandes cascades. J'ai ajouté un maillon rapide sur une plaquette d'un relais non chainé. Pour les prochains il faudra penser à prendre une clé, pas mal de boulons tourne.Avec ce débit le canyon est vraiment intéressant, à plusieurs et avec plus d'expérience descendre dans l'actif doit être envisageable. Ça tapait quand même sévère. (Quelle: https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/21247/observations.html)
