Summary: (machine translated) Short forest canyon with many slides in smooth rock. Usually naturally turbid water. Well suited for children.
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) From Nice, take the M 6202 (formerly RN 202) up the Var. We pass Plan du Var and the hamlet of Chaudan. 1.5 km after this hamlet, we turn right onto a parking lane and park our car here.
Approach: (machine translated) We cross the two roadways and the railroad track with great care. On the other side, we follow the hiking trail along the Canal du Gabre (yellow markings). Then cross the canal and follow the path up the orographic left slope of the canyon. Where the path crosses the stream, we take the path.
Tour: (machine translated) Sequence of many smaller steps, many of them slippery.
Return: (machine translated) Immediately after the canal, we turn left and follow the Var path uphill. This brings us to our approach route and we reach our car.
