Summary: (machine translated) Rappel canyon in red rock, at the exit 3 verticals down into the canyon of Daluis.
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) On the N 202 from Nice north in the direction of Digne up the valley of the Var, past Puget-Theniers to the Pont de Guidan (59 km from Nice, 13 km from Puget-Theniers), where it turns right and on the D 2202 over the Gorges de Daluis winding along. After about 15km, the D 88 branches off to the left, up to Villeplan. Beyond the Var you can see the final waterfalls of the Clue d'Amen. Park one vehicle here. With the other on the D 2202, continue 4 km to Pont des Roberts. Here park the second vehicle (altitude 770 m above sea level, marking "111").
Approach: (machine translated) Follow the trail ("Sentier Amen") that goes up the slope in a southerly direction, passing the entry to Vallon de Tireboeuf. On panoramic paths you go up above the canyon of Daluis, passing the hamlet of Bancheron. At marker "112", do not go left up to the summit of the Amen, but stay on the previous path and take marker "115" to reach the bridge at 1060 m above sea level. Here is the entry.
Tour: (machine translated) The canyon is attractive mainly because of the final waterfalls and the narrow section in front of it, but is also worthwhile as a "total package". The alternative is an access from the parking lot of the first vehicle down to the Var and beyond the scree slope up to the saddle to walk only the attractive final part - cascades finales. It is possible to get off at this saddle even if the entire canyon is climbed before the final part (sign). During thunderstorms there is a danger of rapidly swelling water. Because of the possible crossing of the Var, also check its water level if swimming through the lower part of the canyon is not desired. The red rock is very slippery in the water area. The siphon in the narrow section at the exit of the canyon can be avoided by climbing over it, but it can also be dived through without any problems.
Return: (machine translated) After the final waterfalls, cross the Var and climb steeply in the cirque beyond to the road.
