Access: (machine translated)
Take the D932 and D918 from Bayonne or St. Jean-de-Luz in the direction of St. Jean-Pied-de-Port. Once in Bidarray, cross the bridge on the right over the Nive. We follow the road that runs alongside the river Baztán (le Bastan). After 200 m, cross a bridge over the Baztán and continue uphill on the orographic left. We must not leave this road until we reach the exit. About 200 m before the exit of the road is the last bridge over the Baztán, and about 100 m before that our stream joins the river in the left-hand bend.

Approach: (machine translated)
At the exit of the road, we look for the GR that leads us up to Col d'Espalza. Here we leave the GR and turn right onto a path that leads us down to our stream

Tour: (machine translated)
Open, very slippery, with a rather steep first part, but many passable parts.

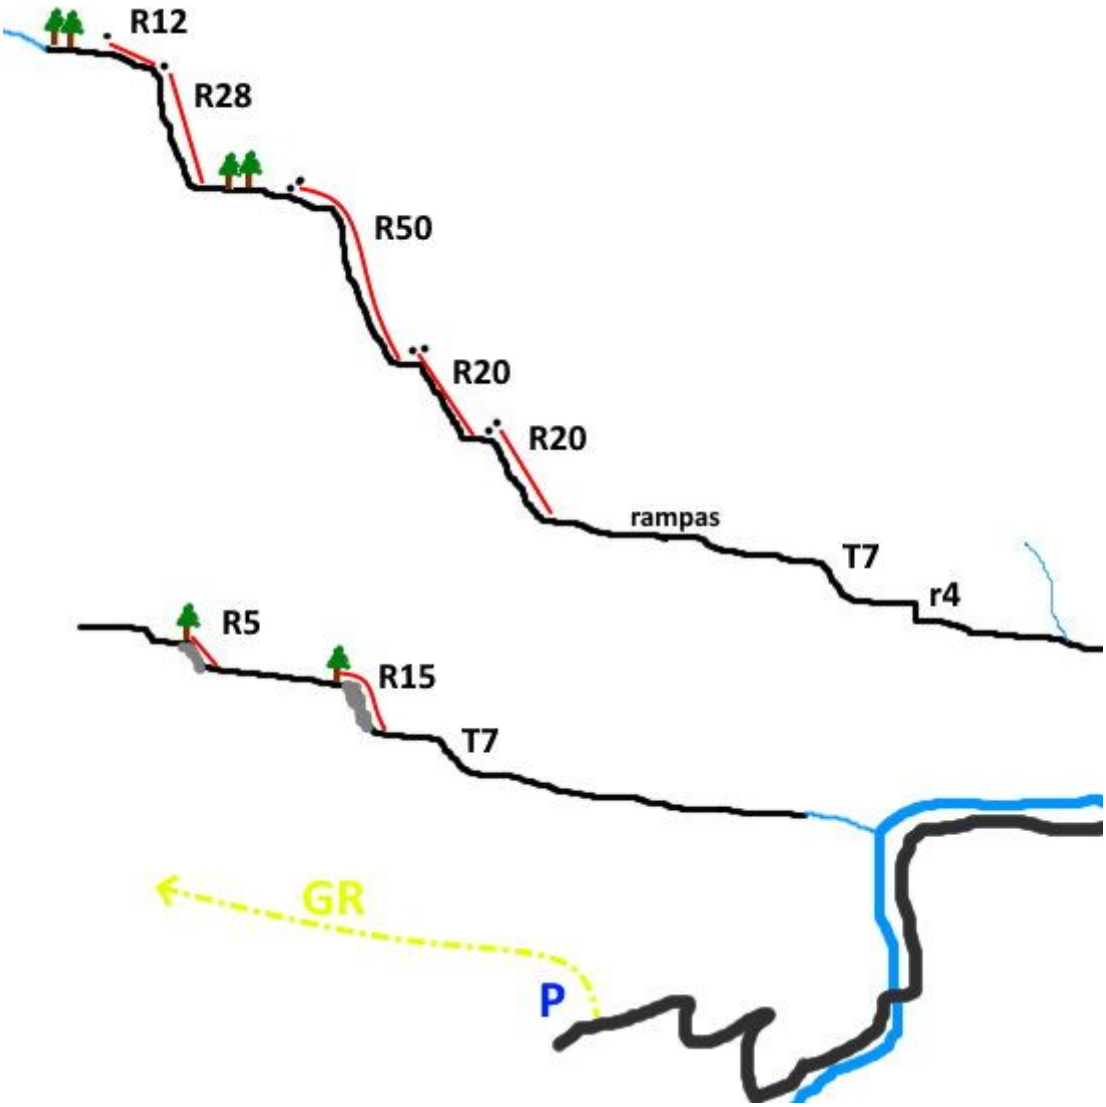

Return: (machine translated)
When we reach the confluence with the Baztán river, we cross it and go up to the road. There we just have to follow it to the parking lot
