Summary: (machine translated) Quite long tour with interesting single sections and many slides. Worthwhile mainly when other canyons in the area have too much water. \Dries out quickly after rainfall.
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) Parking exit: From Kobarid via Robic to Italy. After the village of Stupizza park in front of an avalanche gallery.\n\nExit parking: Continue down the valley to the village of Linder/Loch, here cross the Natisone and follow a narrow, winding mountain road to Montefosca. In Montefosca park on the left \nof the church.
Approach: (machine translated) Follow the asphalted road until you reach a large meadow, here turn left over the embankment and descend along the upper edge of the meadow until you reach a wide path - here briefly turn right until you reach a stone bridge over the Rio Budrin.\n\nAlternatively, you can also climb from the parking exit along path no. 735 from Stupizza to Montefosca (500hm, 1.5h).
Tour: (machine translated) You often rappel from trees, rappel points are generally set up with old material. \n\nAt the highest break, first jump 2m into a small pool, then rappel from the left 15m under the \nrock gate.\n\nThe rappel station for the following 30m rappel is on the left behind the edge, an anchor \nfor a traverse rope is directly under the rock gate.
Return: (machine translated) Downclimb through the blocked streambed. When the canyon walls become flatter, you can switch to the left onto a path.

2023-10-29 Horst Lambauer ★★ ★ 📖 ★★ ★ ⚓ ★★ 🍏 Completed Description and coordinates adapted to current conditions. Quite nice canyon but important directly after heavy rains make. Water also runs off again very quickly and then the canyon is practically dry. (machine translated)
