Summary: (machine translated)
Simple canyon to be done in the rainy season to catch it with water, but be careful with the Meruelo river, which must be crossed on the way back.
Lots of vegetation, slides, simple rappels and a very interesting environment, as well as short accesses and returns will make it perfect for beginners.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Ponferrada by the LE-142 towards Molinaseca and Compludo. Arriving at Molinaseca we park in the village.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will look for the Church of San Nicolás from where the trail PR-LE42 or Route 2 Los Puentes de Malpaso starts. We will follow this trail for one kilometer until we reach the Ardecilla stream, where there is a footbridge to cross it. We access from here

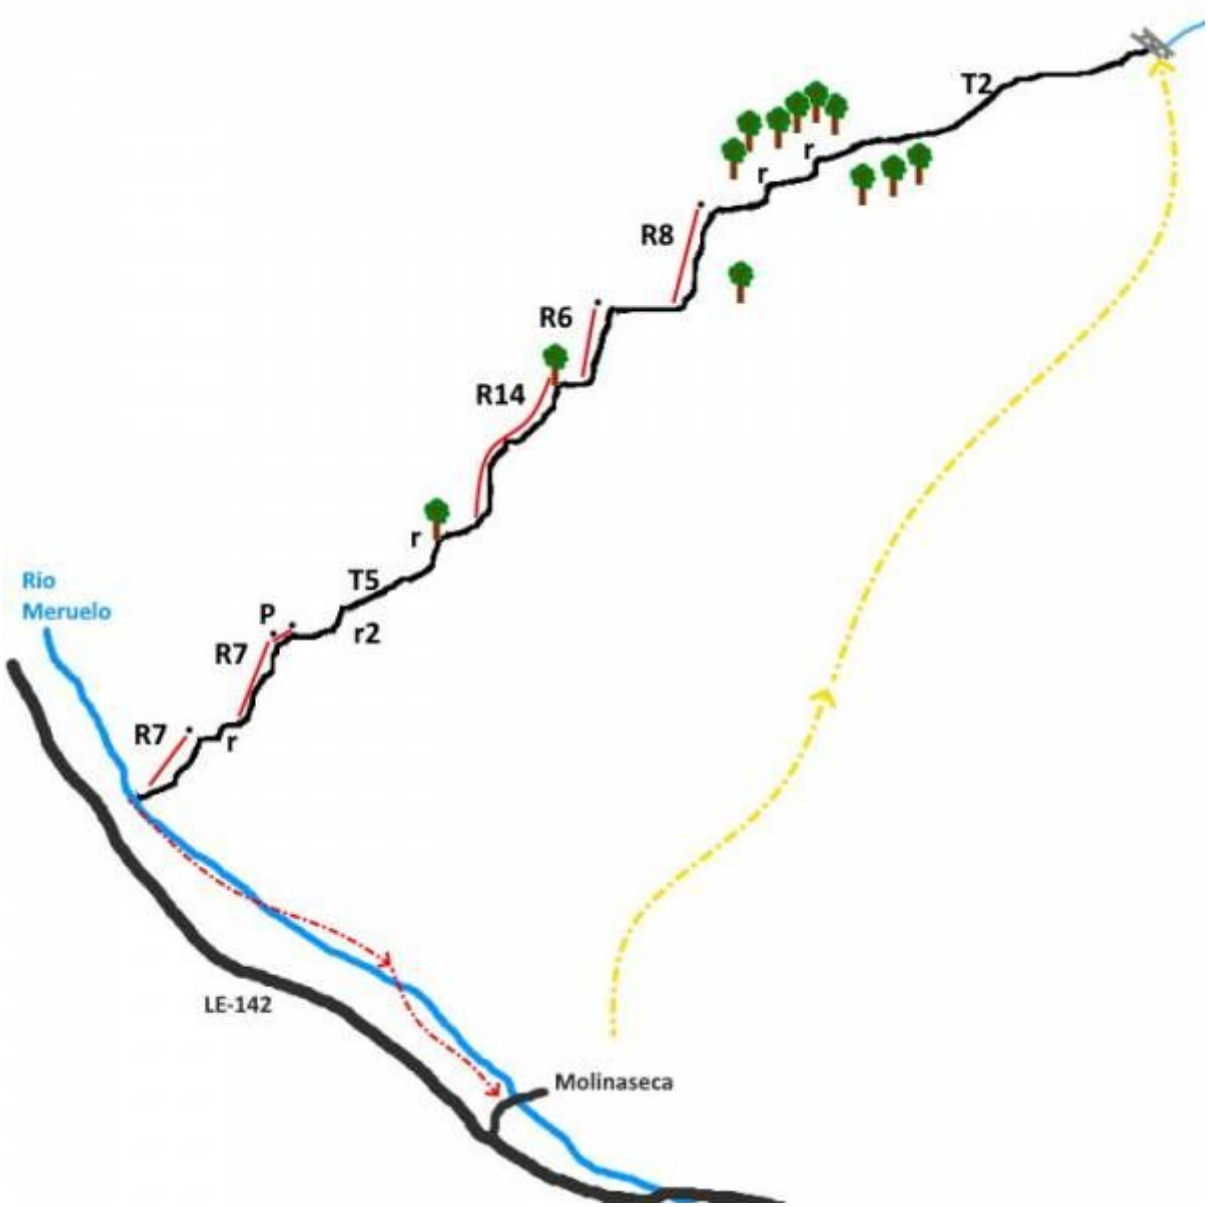

Tour: (machine translated)
Simple, we started with a few skills and a slide to access the first two rappels, one of them a nice balcony over the valley. Then a rappel from a tree to reach a small area of skills and a couple of slides, one of them of 5m. Finally a rappel with handrail and a slide rappel to reach the Meruelo river.

Return: (machine translated)
Along the river, which we will have to cross several times (be careful with the flow), until we reach an old mill and a canalization that we will follow until we reach the village.
