Specialities:
Dam (autom. flushing),

Gear:
Ropes: 2x 50m

Summary: (machine translated)
Tributary of the upper Isorno.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Several alternative routes without a path, on the right-hand side.

Access: (machine translated)
From Domodossola, follow the signs to Masera. Drive through the village and over the bridge over the Isorno. Turn right immediately afterwards and then right again towards Altoggio. Before the village, take the road to Agarina. 5.5 km after Altoggio, pass the hamlet of Corte Sava, which is next to a small dam, and continue along the road until you reach the Agarina mountain pasture. Continue until you reach a ford and leave your car there.

Approach: (machine translated)
Cross the stream by following the road to its exit and then continue along the marked path. The Rio Nocca begins at the first small bridge under which the stream flows.

Tour:
No particular technical difficulty. A few unequipped drops require downclimbing or natural anchors. Early in the season, snowfields may still be present.

Return:
The stream flows into the Upper Isorno river (rio Isorno Sup.) in its final section. When the canyon opens up significantly, continue along the stream bed and then across the meadows on the right until you reach the car.

Coordinates:
Canyon Start 46.1712 8.3482
