Summary: (machine translated) Varied forest gorge
Hydrology: (machine translated) https://www.chcantabrico.es/sistema-automatico-de-informacion-detalle-estacion?cod_estacion=A620
Access: (machine translated) From Bilbao via Santander to Oviedo. Continue on the N-634 in the (western) direction of Grado or Cornellana. After 12 km, turn south towards Trubia and continue up the river of the same name (19 km) to Proaza. Turn left here towards Villamejin and keep left in the village towards San Martin. Continue in the direction of Serandi. Park your car at the next bridge over the Rio Serandi.
Approach: (machine translated) About 30 m east of the bridge, a path leaves the tarred road. This crosses the Rio Serandi at a dilapidated mill on the orographic left bank and climbs up in switchbacks as an old mule track. You then meet the path coming from San Martin (old access). After about 50 minutes you reach a meadow, pass the stone house on the left and descend in an easterly direction to the stream. Here is the entry.
Tour: (machine translated) 22 Rappels. The upper narrow section in the semi-darkness is worth the effort. At the exit of a more open middle section are the two long rappels. There are several opportunities for slides and smaller jumps.
Return: (machine translated) After the last rappelling point, continue walking in the streambed for a few hundred meters until the tracks to the left lead to the ascent path (approx. 100 m before the dilapidated mill). Follow it downhill and back to the car.

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Cuasacas Très beau canyon très encaissé, plutôt 4h que 3h. Enchaînement d'une vingtaine de rappels. Les toboggans de la fin passent. Attention à l'avant dernière cascade c'est plutôt une C30, nous étions en bout de corde avec une 60m. (Quelle: <https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/21530/observations.html>)
