Summary: (machine translated)
Aesthetic canyon, with lots of vegetation, slippery and quite interesting. It is very short to do it in one morning. Some people call it a "collector's" canyon, but after rain or in spring it is a very entertaining and attractive descent.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We will have to get to Sant Hilari Sacalm, from here we will take the GI542 to Osor. In this enclave of lush vegetation, surrounded by forests and with the whispering flow of its rivers we will arrive almost to the Molí del Boscà (private property, try not to disturb).
Just a few meters before pk 18 we have a track on the left that crosses the river, after crossing the bridge we can park without problem. If we have 4×4 we will go up the forest track towards Mas Claver, before arriving at a sharp left curve, a small hill next to the Mas, we will park. Approximately 1.2 kilometers.

Approach: (machine translated)
We walk up to the pass.
In both cases we will be in the left curve, from this curve we will go out NE direction through the forest to go down to the stream. It is almost immediate from here

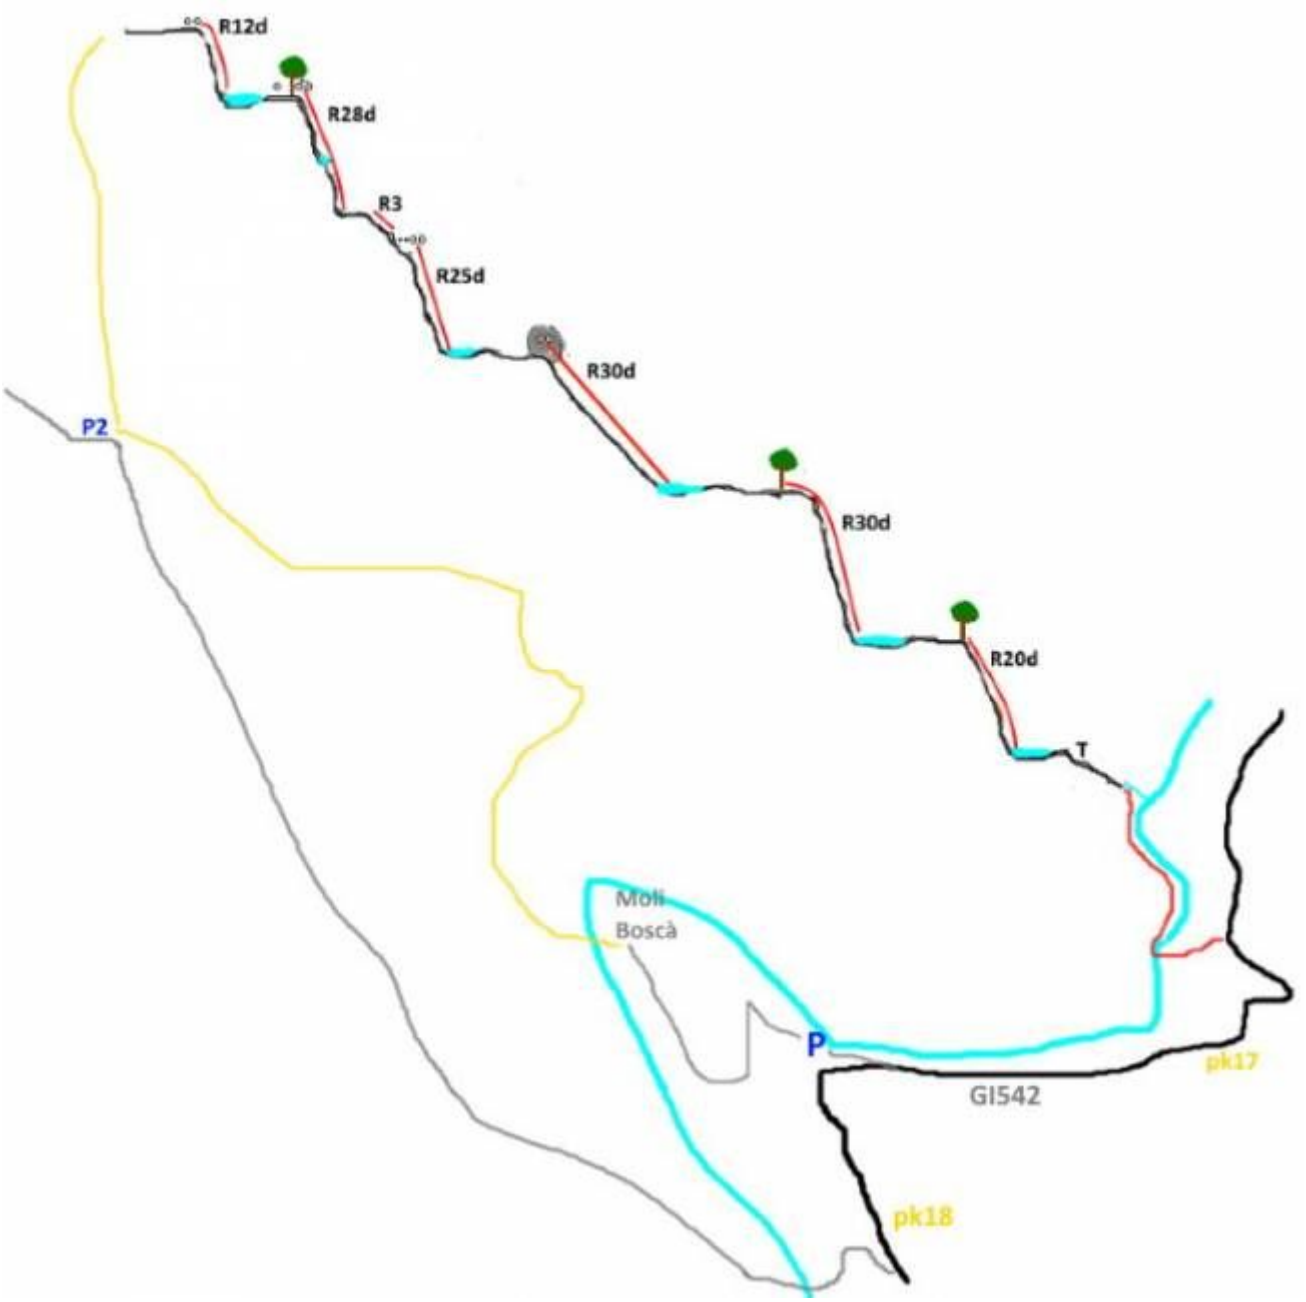

Tour: (machine translated)
Nice descent due to the amount of vegetation although very slippery. In spring or after rains its waterfalls are beautiful.

Return: (machine translated)
Upon reaching the Osor river and the Foradada rock, we will turn right to the Camí dels Carboners where we will go up the slope. We can follow it up to the hill where we have parked the high car/4×4, or on the contrary, halfway up, we turn left to a track that will take us parallel to the river to the bridge.
