Summary: (machine translated)
Beautiful waterfall that we can see from the cabin of the Turmo just below the Portillón. It is born from a spring at about 2100m above sea level and forks to offer us a spectacle in spring with the thaws.
The right time to descend it is in summer since the facilities do not lead through the center of the right branch and the high flow would make it unfeasible. It is advisable to foresee spare material, the winters here are hard and with avalanches.
If we want to combine it with Galantes it will be better to spend the night in Estós.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Take the N260 to Castejón de Sos, where we turn off to Benasque on the A139.
We cross Benasque and continue along the road. After passing the traffic circle of Cerler we will arrive at the bridge over the Ésera, after 100m we have the detour to the left to the Estós Valley. We will go to the parking lot.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will leave by the GR towards the valley and the Estós refuge. We leave behind the detour to Batisielles and arrive after 45 minutes at the exit of the gorga Galantes in which we have a couple of viewpoints if we want to do it also to evaluate its flow.
We will continue climbing and reach the cabin of Turmo, from here we will enjoy magnificent views of our waterfall looking north to the Portillón. We will continue crossing the river by the footbridge and right here we leave the GR to, without a path, climb up the right side of the ravine almost to the walls, at this point we turn left to overcome the wall on the slopes of this side, go around the wall and go for the already visible emergence, the starting point of the descent.

Tour: (machine translated)
Only for experienced people, vertical, aquatic, with problems in the recovery of ropes, facilities with limited space and constant fall of stones. A small challenge to descend in summer, an activity of about 10 hours between access, descent and return.
The equipped branch is the right one, however, we will have to carry installation material since the constant fall of stones, water and avalanches in winter can take away the facilities.

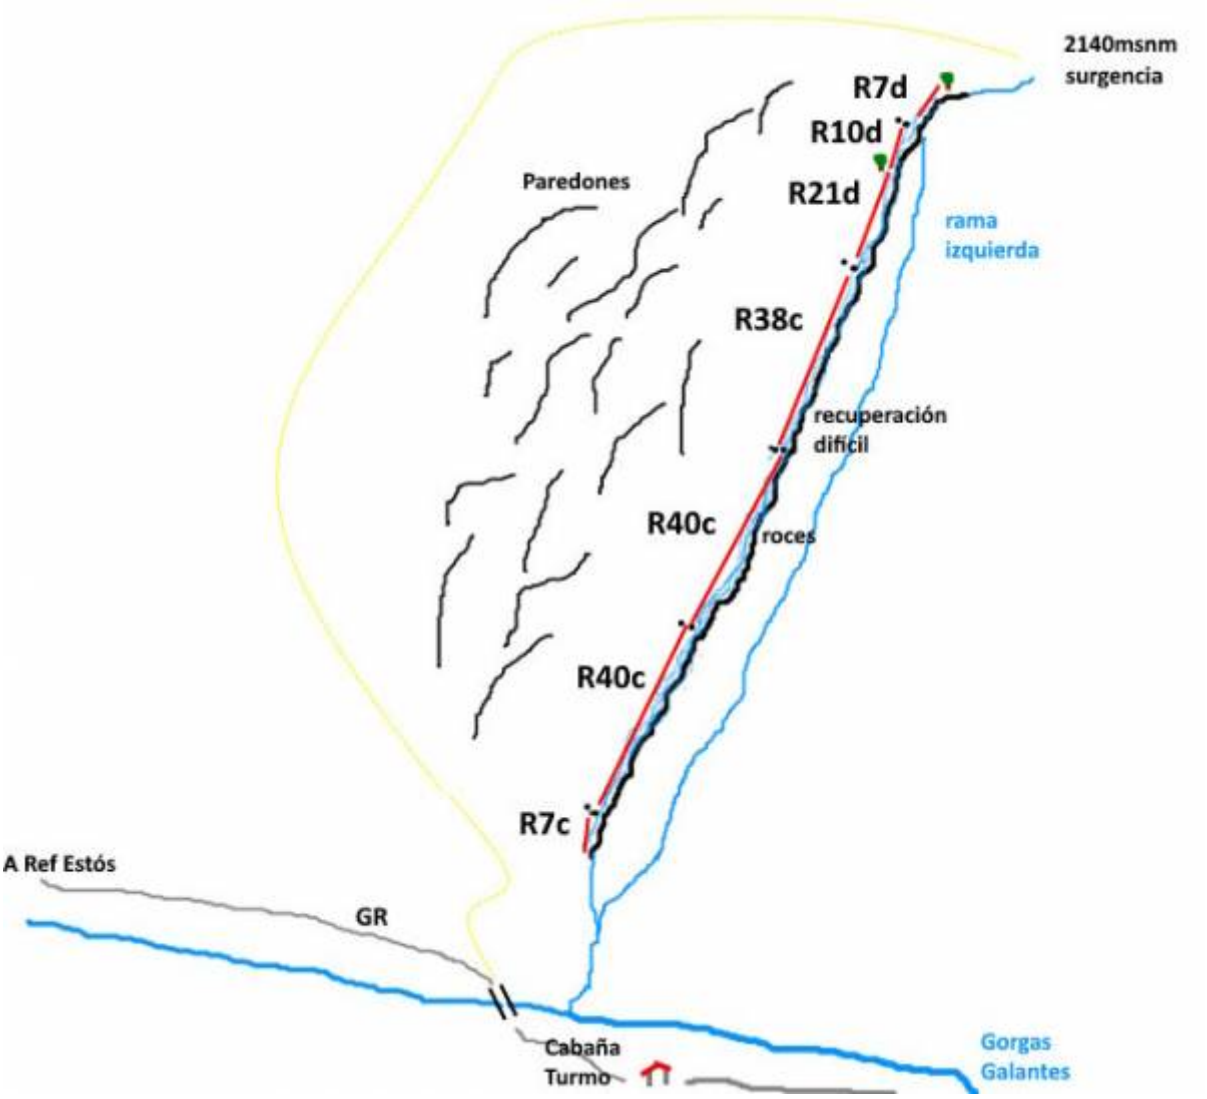

Return: (machine translated)
We will continue along the riverbed towards the GR, we will go back to the access road.
