Summary: (machine translated)
Rather open lime canyon with several small abseils; about 1.5Km catchment area; mostly little water; except for the final waterfall, the upper part is more beautiful and continuous; can be combined with Rio Ronc; some entanglements in the lower part of the canyon; as belays serve bolts with slings, single bolts, tree slings and chain anchors (on our ascent everything was ok); several emergency exits possible; south-western exposure.

Access: (machine translated)
The village of Resuitta lies between Chiusaforte and Carnia. From here you drive into the beautiful Resia Valley. Follow the road signposted "Stolvizza" (P.s. It is 9 km from the sign at the end of Resuitta to Stolvizza). In Stolvizza you can either park directly at the parking lot for hikers (wooden sign "Ta Lipa Pot") next to the pizzeria or follow the road for another 50m and park at the parking lot for hikers (Pusti Gost/ Belvedere) on the left.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the hiking parking lot ("Pusti Gost/Belvedere"), follow the signs to "Pusti Gost/Belvedere". First you walk briefly on the road which then exits at the picnic area with small wooden huts. Continue up the path over the small wooden bridge on the left. You will pass 3 concrete water houses. At the third water house (blue arrows), you can join the stream for the lower part. For the upper entry, follow the path for about 20-25 minutes further up, past the small Jesus cross to the wooden bridge at about 920m.
P.s. If you want to check the water level at the last rappel before the ascent, follow the hiking trail at the pizzeria parking lot (wooden sign) "Ta Lipa Pot" for approx. 5-10min.

Tour: (machine translated)
The first abseiling sections start directly at the wooden bridge at approx. 920m. The steps vary between 5 and 25m. As the stream usually only carries a little water, the abseiling sections, almost all of which lead through the stream, should not pose a problem. The first nicer part (approx. 10 rappels) to the middle entry/exit (left) is more continuous than the second. In the second part there are again approx. 10 abseils (up to max. 35m) interspersed with walking and downclimbs. Towards the bottom, the canyon narrows shortly before you reach the last and most beautiful open cascade. Here you first rappel 15m to an intermediate stand and then another 35m in the water (Caution! Exit from the first pool to the intermediate belay is difficult without fixed ropes besser before the pool, rappel to the right to the intermediate belay). The cascade can also be bypassed right. After the last abseiling point, you are almost at the hiking trail at approx. 600m.

Return: (machine translated)
Follow the "Ta Lipa Pot" hiking trail on the left, which soon leads back to the hiking parking lot in the village.

Fully descended from elevation 930. Weapons ok and therefore no natural weapons needed. Hardware and pollution present especially in the second part. The change of environment between start and finish deserves the descent: very open and not very vertical at the beginning, then the rappels become higher and more attractive, recessed with four close rappels, a few jumps in clear puddles and then final closure in the crack.
