Summary: (machine translated)
This is not a canyon as such, but a water trekking through the tunnels that cross Ogassa. Short, with almost immediate accesses and returns and very spectacular, it is perfect to end a day when we have an hour to spare or when we want to do something different.
Necessary neoprene, the water is terribly cold and it is not superfluous to carry spare cords, those that are placed on the slopes will be necessary to go replenishing them.
A headlamp is essential and please try to disturb the neighbors as little as possible.

Access: (machine translated)
From Ripoll to Sant Joan de les Abadesses by the N260, once here we turn left to Ogassa by the GIV-5211.
Once in Ogassa, just at the entrance, we have a street on our left with the stream next to it. We will take this street and park a few meters ahead.

Approach: (machine translated)
We follow the street and turn right to go up to the Avinguda de les Mines, along it we will continue uphill towards the mining museum. We will leave the sports center on the left now along the cami de la Font Gran. We will pass the mining museum and soon we arrive at the Pinter mine. We have a fence with the stream and the tunnel next to it.

Tour: (machine translated)
See mole

Return: (machine translated)
Immediately, the tunnel ends next to where we parked.
