Entry at approx. 950 m.a.s.l. and exit at 800 m.a.s.l. at the bridge. The anchors are old but all ok, except for the third last step before the bridge. We couldn't find an anchor there and downclimbed over wood. Beautiful forest gorge but quite slippery. (machine translated)

We only walked the lower part. We climbed from the road bridge, orographic left through the forest. Actually very nice rappels, but very slippery throughout and also a lot of wood in the canyon. (machine translated)
