Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Dry canyon, entertaining and very accessible car combination. If we do not make combination we will have a nice walk through the pine forest while climbing the PR of the Sierra de la Cresta del Gallo.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located on the RM302 from the Alberca.
We will pass the neighborhood of Algezares (pk 7) and before pk 5 (Los Garres) we have a street on the right (Cuesta del Olivar), we go up this street and in the curve we will see a parking area on the left. Here we leave the return car.
If we have two cars, with the access car we will continue along the road a few kilometers to San José de la Montaña, from here a small road that goes up to the mountain range of Cresta del Gallo, in less than 4kms we find a left curve with an open area on the right where to park, a kind of viewpoint.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the return car the PR MU50 leaves the PR MU50 that in 30 minutes takes us up to the road. We will go right to the clearing where the access car is parked.
From the access parking lot we will take a path that goes into the valley and soon the first rappel.

Tour: (machine translated)
Nice descent with easy rappels except for the 45m.
The second rappel is just 25m. You can do a split 5 + 20 so that there is no friction, when descending those 5 (that is the second rappel really) there is a small space, it is not a ledge, but it is a small and irregular space.
In the R45 we will have two possible installations, the left one being an overhang. When recovering the rope, it usually remains on a 3m ledge that must be climbed and dexterous, so be very careful when doing so.

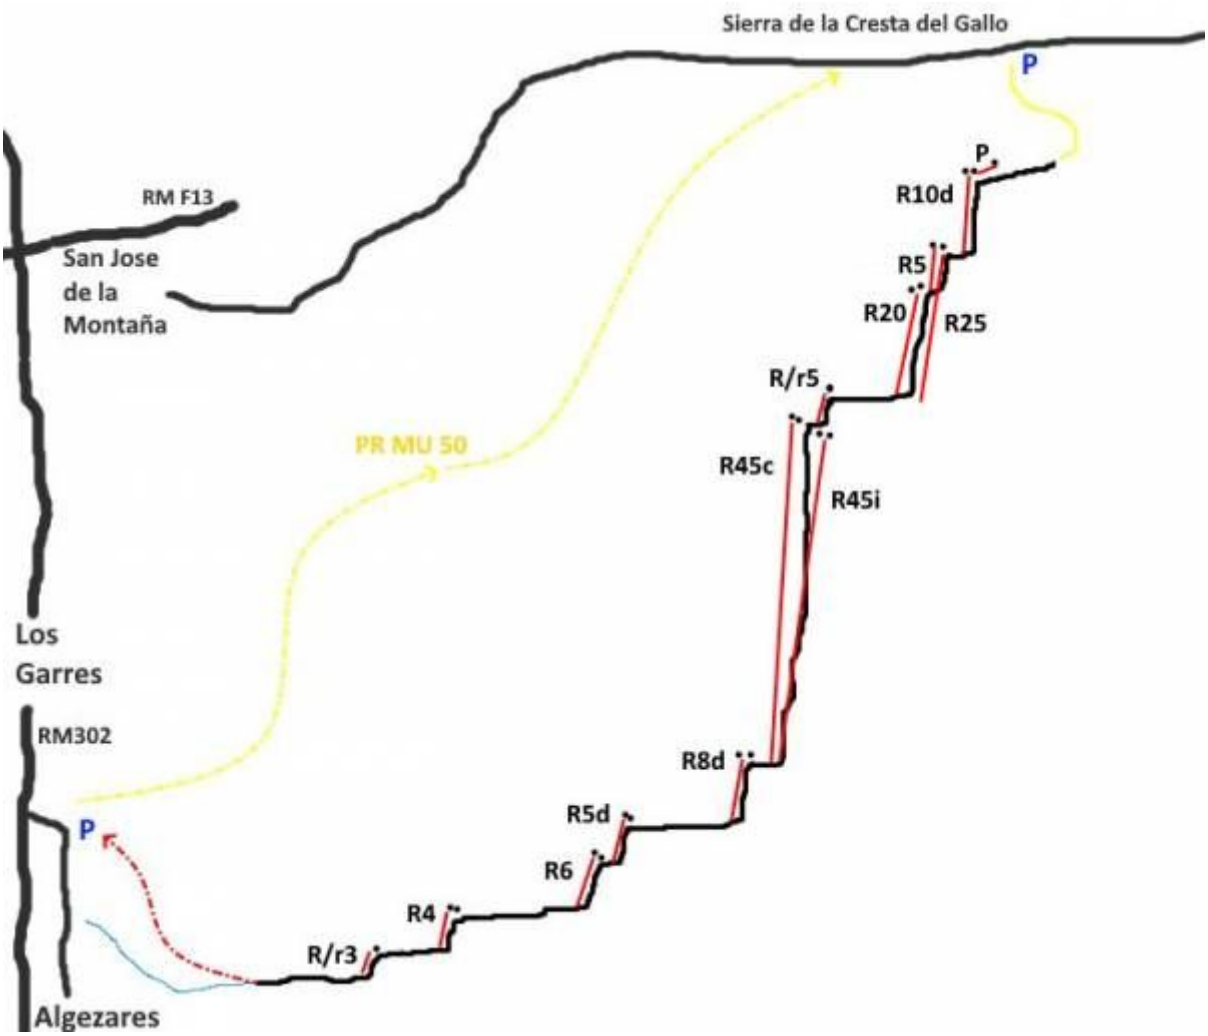

Return: (machine translated)
At the end of the rappels we follow the riverbed for 100m until we find a path on the right that leads us to the parking lot.
