Access: (machine translated)
On the A2 we will take the detour to El Bruc.
Cross the village up to the schools and turn right looking for the Refugi Vincenç Barré. We will follow this road that will become a track to the parking lot used by climbers.

Approach: (machine translated)
We continue along the track and we leave by the path on the right, same access as Caragols, white and then blue marked trail that climbs towards the Gerro and els Pallers. A little further on it joins another more marked trail in the Era dels Pallers (small pass) where we go to the right. About 100m later the trail approaches the bed of the stream, time to leave the trail and get into the riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
Wide channel with 3 areas of fixed ropes for dexterity. After them we can visit the Cova dels Mistos and soon the rappel that gives its name to the channel. A 26-27m rappel that leaves no one indifferent, narrow, uncomfortable, with remains of ropes, irons, ...

Return: (machine translated)
We take the path to the right that leads us to the access path.
