Summary: (machine translated) Dry canyon with rock pots in marble.
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) Approach from the A12 - Massa exit to Tre Fiume and continue to the point where the road faces Fosso Fatonero (see approach sketch in photo gallery).\nIf you want to get on from P2 (shuttle then makes sense) approach to Arni (P2).
Approach: (machine translated) 1st possibility (the above altitude and time data refer to this one): We climb upwards in the Fosso del Fatonero. Some passages are equipped with fixed ropes. Quite at the exit of the high valley we keep going up to the right, at the top we meet the trail that goes up from Arni (P2) and we march through the Foce/Passo Contapecore (1472m altitude). Beyond, we walk always slightly downhill the wide basin below Monte Sumbra (1765m altitude) and enter Fosso Anguillaia at about 1100m at the mouth of a dry stream coming down from the left.\n\n2. Possibility: As in 1. up the Fosso Fatonero, but at the first widening of the canyon (at about 870m altitude) right (orographic. left) up the steep slope to a shoulder (1030m altitude) from here we keep descending steadily towards the point where this right side cirque of the Fosso Anguillaia joins the latter. A little below we then climb (850m altitude), using the ropes if necessary.\n\n3. Possibility: access on the trail from Arni. This access has the advantage of a comfortable path and the higher starting point (930m altitude). It also shortens the time to the upper entry. On the other hand, one misses the marble pots in Fosso Fatonero. \The car is parked in the large parking lot north of the hamlet of Arni (P2). At its southern exit the path begins. First we go to the shoulder Focetta (1110m altitude), then up to Malpasso (1445m altitude). Now you cross the basin at the head of the Fatonero valley in the "Bosco" (forest) of the same name. Then you come to Foce Contapecore (1472m altitude) to follow from here the access path under 1.
Tour: (machine translated) 7 rappels, possibly more in the meantime, lots of downclimbing.
Return: (machine translated) Down the path to Turrite Secco, across to the road and right to the car.
