Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Canyon that can be divided into Upper and Intermediate (or lower), the intermediate part can be combined with Coiteladas. The upper part is of high geological interest and has a medium technical level.
The intermediate section is above all of great effort because it is a succession of skills in which it is necessary to be very careful if the flow is high.
It is essential to request authorization https://montanaregulada.org/area/rego-de-carballido

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Location of Folgoso
We must arrive at Folgoso do Courel.
Access ravines of the Rio Carballido croquis
We go up by the school and follow the track towards the Monte Pía Paxaro about 2,5 km. Here there is a very closed curve to the left. We parked

Approach: (machine translated)
Barrancos Río Carballido in map
We continue along the same track with the Carballido River on the right until we reach a bend where the river crosses. We access here

Tour: (machine translated)
At the bridge we will evaluate the flow in case it is high. Keep in mind that the intermediate section receives more water from other tributaries.
The descent is very fun and different, the first part is very vertical and continuous rappels. The second part is of abseiling, slides and much more water.

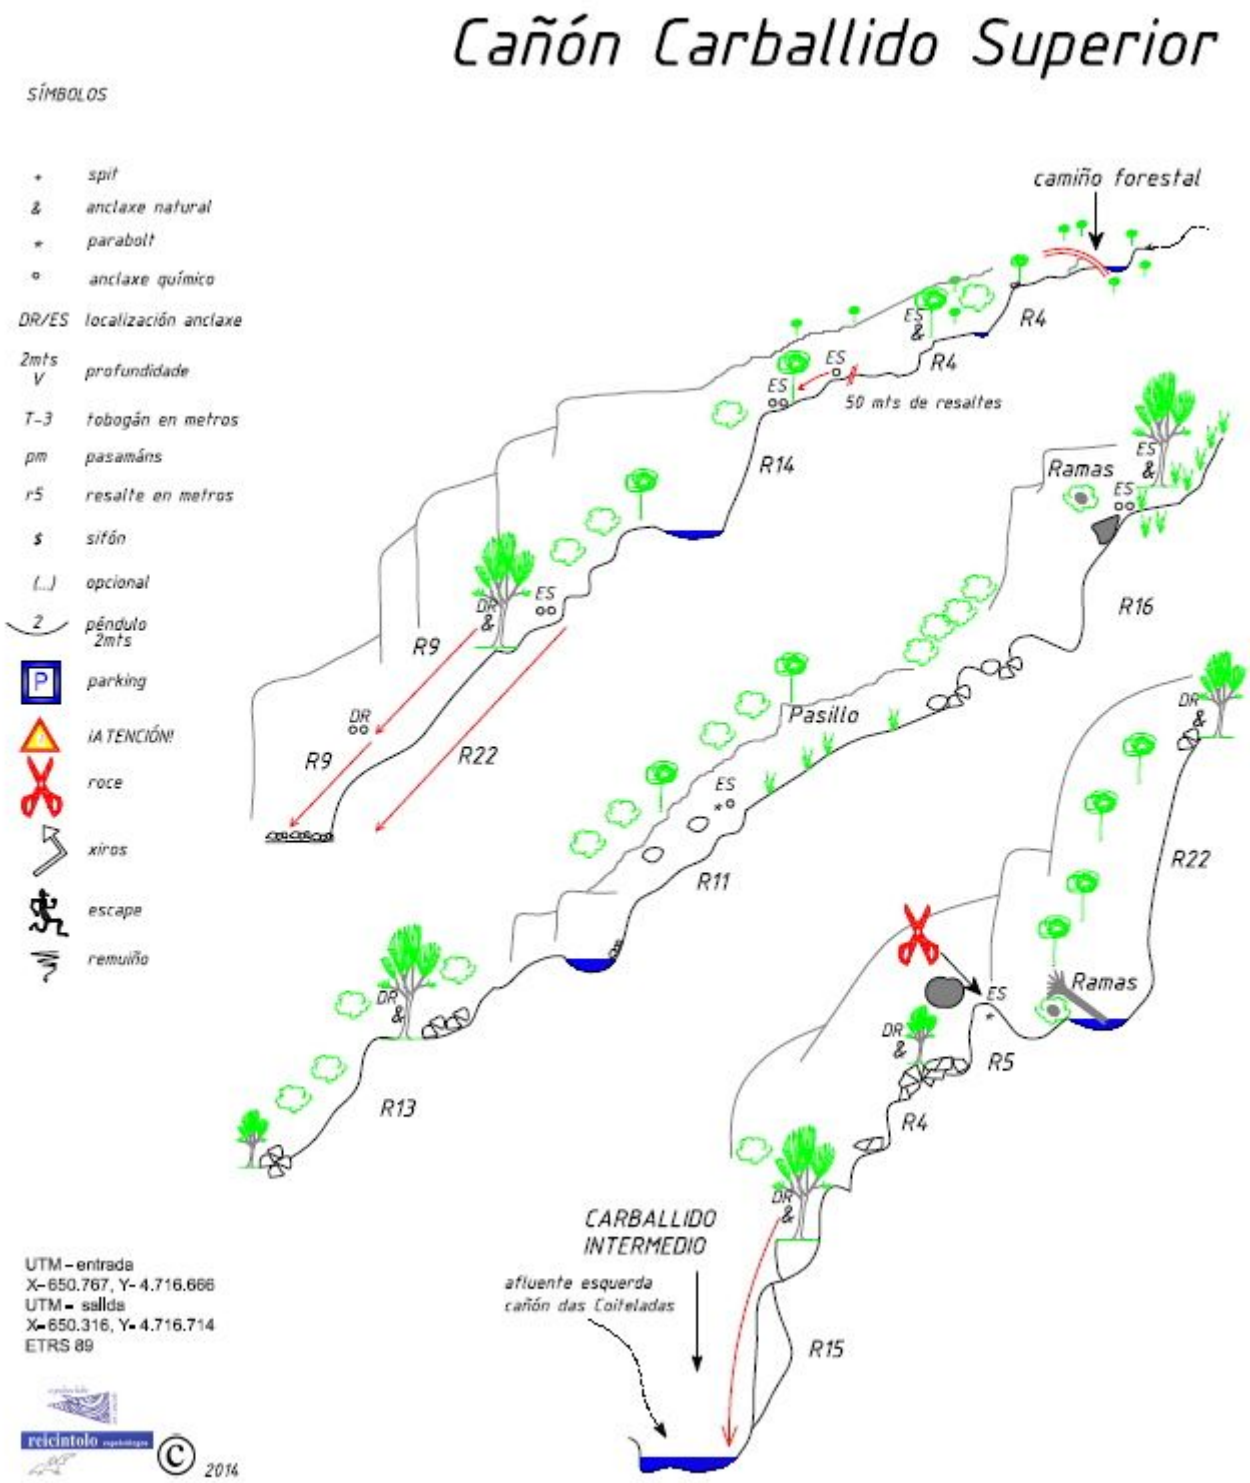

Return: (machine translated)
Once we arrive at the cave we can exit to the right and climb halfway up the slope to the parking lot or continue to the Feienteiras ravine and go left by its exit. In this case two cars are needed.
