Steep rappel canyon with narrow passages - scenic but dry. Most rewarding in early spring when the snow melts (but then be careful when crossing the Mürz after the canyon).

Exit: B23 from Mürzsteg in the direction of Mariazell. Parking possibility directly in front of the tunnel at the waterfall to the Toten Weib\\n\\nEinstieg: B23 to Frein an der Mürz. There cross the bridge over the Mürz - behind it Park,öglichkeit.

Cross the Mürz and follow the forest road that climbs to the south. After about 30 minutes you cross the Plotschenbach on a concrete bridge. \nHier entry point if you want to go only the lower part. For the more rewarding upper part, continue for about 20min on the forest road until you meet the stream after a forester's lodge, which seeps directly above the canyon.

In the upper part forest canyon with some narrow rocky gorges. Tree obstacles and much to downclimb - set up with 10mm expansion hooks are only the highest slopes. During a reconnaissance tour during the snowmelt, this part was water-bearing - but the rest of the year it is apparently dry. In 2014, this part was completely covered with wood over long stretches and thus no longer worthwhile.\n\nafter the bridge, 4 abseils of 20m, 10m, 25m (expansion hook on clamping block on the right) and 32m (chain on the upper left) follow before you reach the mouth of the Mürz. After a gauge house, an aluminum staircase leads out of the streambed to the parking lot.
