Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Second ravine in the province of Seville. Much better to do it in spring to make sure it has flow. Good jumps to the pools and slides for a modest canyon.
The ravine is located in the P. N. Sierra Norte de Sevilla, so we must request authorization from the Provincial Delegation of Seville Environment and Land Management, at least 15 days in advance. The permission serves to be able to cross the two closed gates that we have up to the ravine. From the gate to where we leave the cars there are about 11 kms.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
On the A66, exit 747 (Almadén and Sta Olalla). Follow the signs to Almadén de la Plata.
Cross the town and take the detour to the Chorro slope (right). We follow the track for about 4kms and at the crossroads of Berrocal to the right. Here we have the first gate. We continue and arrive at the second gate and the recreational area. We continue towards "El Membrillo" about 9kms and leave the first car. The second car for the return we will follow the track for about 2.5kms more.

Approach: (machine translated)
We descend to the river along the trail

Tour: (machine translated)
Two zones separated by a 20min walk. In the first one small jumps and a slide. In the second the 2 long rappels

Return: (machine translated)
At the end of the wall we exit to the left.
