Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Nice ravine little frequented, mountainous environment, with fair facilities. To be done in spring, in summer it can dry out. Almost a collector's item

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
On the N260 between Pont de Suert and La Pobla de Segur, at the height of Senterada we turn off on the L503 to Torre de Cabdella.
We will arrive at the village of Molinos, we pass it and soon we have the detour to the left to Astell. We will follow the small road to the village of Astell where we park the return car.
With the access car we will continue to Aguiró, we will not enter the village from the front, but we will make the two hairpins that place us above the village and park there.
If we have a high car or a 4×4 we can follow the track up another kilometer and a half.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will continue up the track to the Tossal de Curronit, there we could continue along the track around the Bco de Costa Cardiguera, or directly cross the ravine, halfway up the slope by a path that goes under the track on the other side of the slope. We will see that the track ends right next to a shepherd's hut and on the other side we see the bed of our ravine.

Tour: (machine translated)
Quite vertical canyon, with a couple of long rappels, single point installations and others in natural. At times it gets a little fat, areas where the water can take some strength if we are in thaw.
Caution with the recoveries

Return: (machine translated)
When we cross the track, we turn right and follow it down to Astell.
