Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Open canyon, solitary, very beautiful and interesting but only for experienced and strong people. It is 5 hours of canyoning plus the somewhat long and exposed approach. Two cars are necessary.
To be done always in the rainy season because it is not worth it dry.
Note: caution with ticks! Long clothes and repellent

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in Caldueño which we will reach by the LLN-7.
Towards Llanes, just at the exit we have the detour to the right to Caldueñín where we will leave the car to return.
At the other exit we have the detour to Las Xareras, where we will go. We can park in the village or continue along the track that climbs to the pass of La Nava. We will go as far as we can with our vehicle.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will continue towards the pass, when we reach it we will be in our valley, we must go down where we can best by the orographic right. The descent is neither comfortable nor easy.

Tour: (machine translated)
Slippery, with a multitude of slopes, slides, pools...

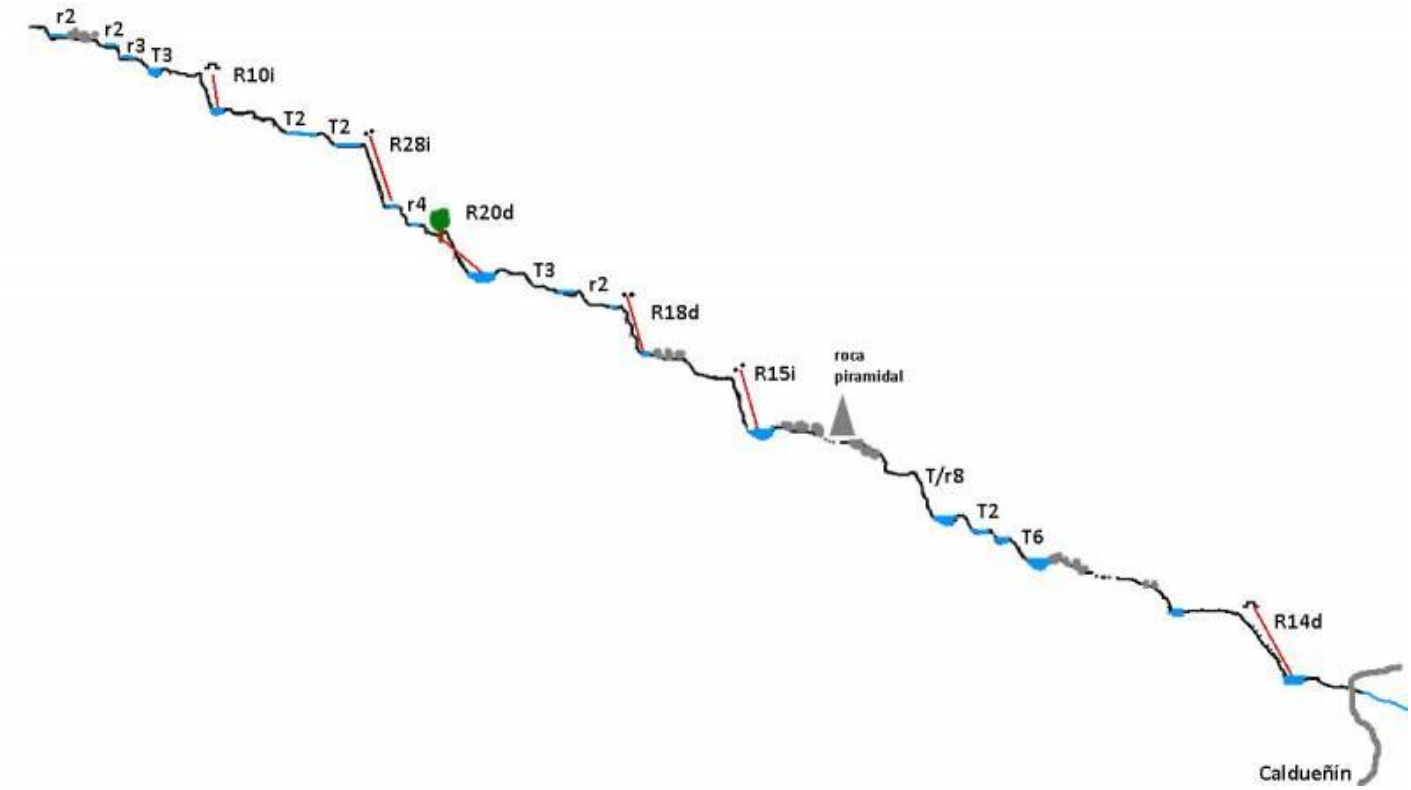

Return: (machine translated)
After the last rappel, already in the forest, there is the possibility of making a final slide and soon we can go out to the right to take the track or walk along the riverbed to the track.
