Access: (machine translated)
As for Gutturu Fenugu (see there). If you want to walk Riu de Mesu in combination with Gutturu Fenugu (recommended), the parking place for the exit remains the same as for Gutturu Fenugu. \However, if you want to limit the tour to the Riu de Mesu part, you can park the car for the exit where you parked the car for the access to Gutturu Fenugu. However, in this case it is not necessary to move the car, because it is also possible to return to the car for the access.\nIn order to park the car for the access, one continues on the slope for another 1.7 km and arrives at a large round parking area for the (possibly upper) car "P1" (see also "Overview" in "Photo Gallery").\n

Approach: (machine translated)
We follow the sign "Mitz 'e Toguru" and take the path to the east. A somewhat larger mule track follows, which first leads us across a small stream to bring us to the entry a little later (see also "Overview" in "Photo Gallery").

Tour: (machine translated)
Walking, downclimbing and 4 steps (C12 - R15 - C8 - T5).

Return: (machine translated)
Where a mule track crosses the stream at 635m, we can get off, unless we want to continue the tour in Gutturu Fenugu (see there). If we have only one car and we parked it at "P3" or "P3a", we get off on the mule path up to the right. It will take us first back to the entry and then on the access path back to the parking lot (see also "Overview" in "Photo Gallery").
