On the TF28 to the village of El Río.
Heading south on the TF28 we will pass the bridge over the Bco el Río, a bridge over another tributary and just a kilometer after leaving the village we reach another bridge over a tributary, a few meters before there is a place to park the access vehicle.
With two vehicles, the return vehicle should be left in the village, by the Bastián road.

You can't get lost, a path leads down to the bed, just follow it.

From the tributary, the access to the bank is made through a couple of rappels.

Where the riverbed widens we will have a slope on the left where there are remains/traces of a path that ascends. Horrible path of loose stone in which we will have to take extreme precautions, when arriving at the top we will surround the crops by the south to arrive at the street Bastián.
