Summary: (machine translated)
Shutteln, very far way!!!!!; entire tour very long and demanding; snack recommended; high rappel; check water level!!! Tignalga short, vertical and very clean; Campione is a hiking canyon except for the last part after the reservoir; bottom muddy; at the bridge of Campione exit possibility.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Torbole --> Riva --> SS45 --> after the tunnel r. Exit Tignale --> follow the road --> pass Piovere --> pass Oldesio and Gardola (strong bend to the right in the village) --> continue to Prabione --> take the road to the left until a 90 degree bend to the left --> after the 2nd bend to the right, park at the bridge (approx. 600m).

Approach: (machine translated)
You stand right next to the stream.

Tour: (machine translated)
From the parking lot at the bridge you walk in the streambed to a pipeline and the 1st of 3 ladders --> downclimb --> right past large rocks to the 50m downclimb which can also be divided (30m+ 20m) --> grotto with high rock walls -->2m rappel --> 4 rappels of approx. 10m, 8m, 10m and 15m (big clamping block) --> followed by 2 small climbing passages --> rappel 13m --> fixed rope with hourglass (25m rappel over 2er cascade in grotto) --> short rappel 3m --> !!!! downclimb on the right side about 5m or left 5m rappel to the final waterfall (60m) --> the final waterfall can be divided on the left side (R45+R20) --> but there is only one bad 8mm bolthook in the small bulge on the left. (possibly set a new piton) --> bypass the boulder on the left --> left fixed rope 4m --> downclimb on the right over boulders --> here you meet the stream Campione (370Hm) --> in the Campione you have to follow the stream because there is no downclimb here (unless you take the hiking trail 203 and 204 that comes from the village Cadignano to the bridge of Campione and set up a 25m rope for the exit, time needed approx. 1 hour --> here would be actually the entry for the Campione, with this variant one needs the shuttle car in the locality Cadignano and of course ascenders) --> otherwise the brook (hiking canyon) approx. 3h up to the reservoir follow and r. swimming leave --> left over the dam wall go and climb over the barrier --> the gravel path back to the brook take (after the weir) and in the brook after approx. 100m r. the hiking way as Rückwegt take. --> 2nd option approx. 1,5h from the weir follow the rest of the Campione (very worthwhile) --> exit at Lake Garda in Campione at 660Hm (see description Campione). 3rd option: after the Tignalga flows into the Campione, follow the almost horizontal course of the Campione stream until the first waterfall. On the left side of the cliff there are poorly visible iron clamps. Climb up there, then follow the path to Sermerio (1st fork to the left). Alternatively, you can go up to the road in Michele (about 1h) (1.5h).

Return: (machine translated)
Return to Cadignano via the hiking trail or continue for 4.5-5h via Campione (see description Campione).

It started off with some great rappels, followed by a long walking passage through a scenic and geologically beautiful canyon. (machine translated)

The beginning and end of the tour are very rewarding. However, the three-hour walking passage through the murky water with not exactly little current is very exhausting. With ascent we were 8 hours on the way. The stands are already somewhat older and no longer in optimal condition. (machine translated)
