Summary: (machine translated)
Collectors gully with good flow in spring and a trickle in summer.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Take the N260 to Ribes de Freser and there take the detour to Queralbs. Just before reaching Queralbs, in a sharp left curve we have the Farga and the detour to Fustanyà.
If we have a normal car we continue straight ahead 100m and we will see where to park with a path on the right to climb.
If we have high car we will go to Fustanya and right next to the detour we have a track that goes left Humildad mine, we will go here until just before a barrier.

Approach: (machine translated)
If we have left the car down we will go up the path next to the stream to the track.
Once on the track we follow the track crossing a couple of streams until we reach one with a large fallen tree, we will go up the slope next to it following a trail with a few gray marks. We will have to climb about 200 meters to reach the head of the trail.

Tour: (machine translated)
Fairly open except for the narrow end that can give problems with high flow. It is very slippery

Return: (machine translated)
You reach the access road
