Summary: (machine translated)
For collectors—or when nothing else works.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
A fairly intense melting period.
Note: At temperatures below 20 °C, almost nothing flows.

Access: (machine translated)
Park in the Grands Montets parking lot (paid).

Approach: (machine translated)
Head to the middle station of the cable car (via the hiking trail, the ski run, or by cable car). From the station, take the ski path toward Mer de Glace. Descend toward the second canyon. The first waterfall is about a ten-minute walk over boulders.

Allow a maximum of 1.5 hours for the ascent on foot.

Tour: (machine translated)
A series of about fifteen waterfalls with little depth. Be careful—the rock is unstable and there's a lot of loose rock.

Return: (machine translated)
When the stream makes a sharp left turn, get off at the Argentière Glacier moraine and return to the parking lot via the path.
