Summary: (machine translated)
In the lower part, narrow and deep lime canyon... The stands were renewed in 2023 for the Raduno, but an emergency drill kit should still be present. Especially in the lower part, the canyon can be dangerous when the water level is high, because it is very narrow and there is little escape. In summary: highly recommended.

Access: (machine translated)
From Belluno head north on the SS51 to Longarone; leave the SS51 here on the right in the direction of Pordenone/Erto; cross the bridge and then take the SR251 road up the mountain; drive through Erto - over the Zemola (possibility to combine the two canyons) - and follow the SR251 past Cimolais; 4km after Cimolais there is a junction in the direction of Claut - leave the SR251; after approx. After approx. 3km you come to the entrance to the village of "Claut", here you turn left before the village sign in the direction of Val Settimana or the "Tree Village" campsite. After approx. 100m you come to a ticket machine where you have to buy a ticket for the valley (please note that there are checks and fines). From the ticket machine, drive 10km along the road, which becomes a gravel track in places, until you reach the bridge marked "Pont del Ciarter". There is a parking lot on the right before the bridge where you can leave your car.
From Claut into the Val Settimana, up to the bridge Ponte del Chiarter 867m.\nPartly asphalt / gravel road.

Approach: (machine translated)
From the parking lot, cross the bridge and immediately after the bridge follow hiking trail 370 to the left. The hiking trail first climbs steeply up the slope, becomes flatter further up and runs parallel to the canyon. Follow the path without any forks until you can enter the canyon directly on the left after approx. 45 minutes - 1 hour at 1300m.

Tour: (machine translated)
Once you reach the entry point at 1300m, a relatively long and unspectacular walk and downclimb awaits you, which is interrupted every now and then by small abseils. After a small slide, you come to the highest rappel of the tour at approx. 45m. Please note that this is located directly in the water and should be done with caution when the water level is high. The rope retrival is also difficult - make sure that the rope is properly guided.
Up to the 45m rappel, the tour is extremely unspectacular, but after that it is sensational. The canyon becomes increasingly incised with several successive rappels.

If the water level at the top is already causing problems in any way, you should abort the tour before the 45m rappel. This is followed by another 18m rappel and walking terrain in the narrow canyon before you have the opportunity to get up left via an emergency exit.

This is followed by the really sensationally deep and dark part of the canyon with several abseils. This part totally makes up for the first few hundred meters of walking and downclimbs. Until the exit, there are a few rappels (max. 10m) in the deep canyon. Beware, some of these are directly in the water flow, this part makes the heart of every canyoneer beat faster
After the narrow part of the canyon, there are 3 more abseils before you reach the parking lot after crossing the stream.

Although there is not much to expect at the top, the tour continuously increases in attractiveness and is highly recommended. The time of the ascent is relatively unimportant, as there is little sunlight at the bottom anyway - just as it should be.

Return: (machine translated)
After the tour, cross the stream and walk upstream for about 5 minutes before you reach the parking lot.

There's a lot of gravel in the pools right now. We tied a sling to a tree on the right side of the slide because the water on the slide is currently knee-deep. Otherwise, everything's great. (machine translated)

Hike time: 3 hours 40 minutes. Excellent climbing holds. Pools and trails full of gravel—only did two dives and one slide. A beautiful stream, especially the section with the rapids. A must-see in the area. (machine translated)

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Ciorosolin DC, il faut être a l'aise en désescalade et beaucoup d'évolution dans les blocs surtout pour le début du canyon, puis on arrive a la grande cascade et la le canyon devient superbe l'encaissement hyper étroit sombre et obscur, ambiance austère, manque de profondeur dans les biefs et les vasques, seule la dernière vasque peut se sauter (Quelle: https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/21082/observations.html)

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Ciorosolin Même remarque que les précédents. La moitié du canyon, c'est pas incroyable à part la grande cascade très belle. La fin est super par contre. Effectivement c'est mieux d'être à l'aise en désescalade mais nouvel équipement au top ! Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Ciorosolin Canyon très discontinu, grosse marche en blocs au début et au milieu, heureusement les oscuros et la partie finale relève l'intérêt. Surnoté pour moi.... (Quelle: https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/21082/observations.html)
