Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Impressive gap between Roca Grossa and Roca Dreta, vertiginous descent with a somewhat hard access. It is difficult to carry water and in summer it can be too hot.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We are located in Árnes, on the T330. We will enter by the side of Valderrobles (from the river) to take Aragon Street. After 200m we have a detour to the right to Toll de Vidre that we will take. By this track/road we will go to the Coll de la Creu, here we will turn right to go down to the Algars river. At the bottom we will have parking space on the left.

Approach: (machine translated)
On the path of Les Valls, we will clearly pass under the Ballestera and after passing some milestones and yellow/orange markings going up to the left to the "Pujador del Puntalet". When we reach the pass we turn left to Lo Puntalet from where we continue through the forest towards the channel that is being marked.

Tour: (machine translated)
Vertical descent where we will have to take into account that some meetings do not allow more than 3 people.

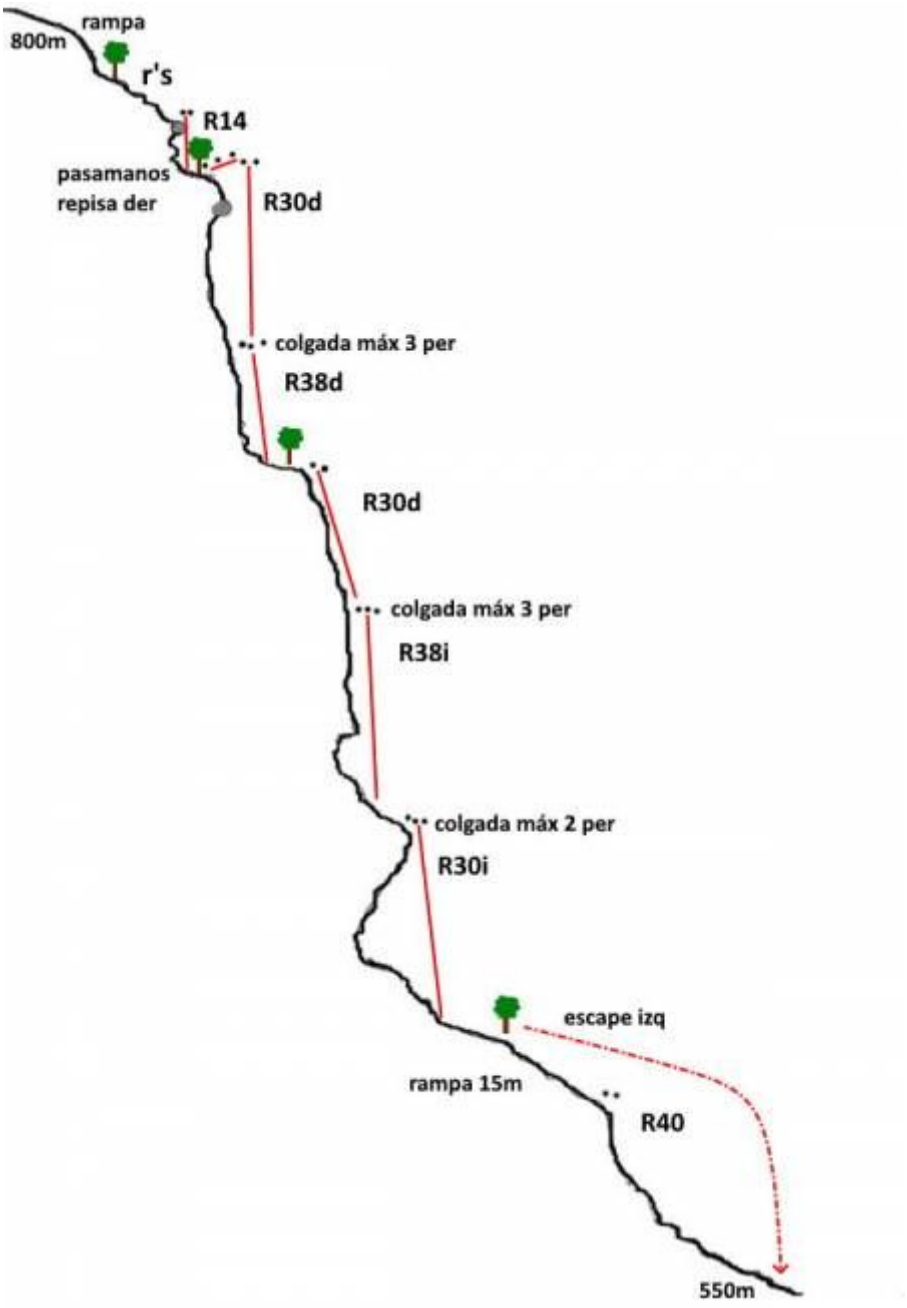

Return: (machine translated)
We will continue down to the access road
