Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Gully that in summer can dry out at the foot of the Txindoki. Provide spare equipment. Easily combined with Arritzaga

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From the A1, we take the GI2131 to Alegría. We continue on the GI2133 to Amezketa, we pass it and soon we arrive at Larraitz.
Arritzaga and Urtzabal Accesses (D. Dulanto - 2009)
We can park at the hermitage or go left to the parking lot to climb the Txindoki.

Approach: (machine translated)
Arritzaga and Urtzabal Accesses
We leave by the track that goes up to the Txindoki and at the height of the post (repeater) we follow a path that leaves the Txindoki to one side and enters the ravine.
Another option is, if you do Arritzaga, from the same parking a path to the right that zig-zags up to pass into the valley of the ravine of Urtzabal. In a very closed curve to the left, soon it leaves a path little marked to the right that descends towards the head of the ravine.

Tour: (machine translated)
A simple descent with plenty of cliffs. Some of the rappels may be uninstalled or precarious, but there is always the option of natural ones.

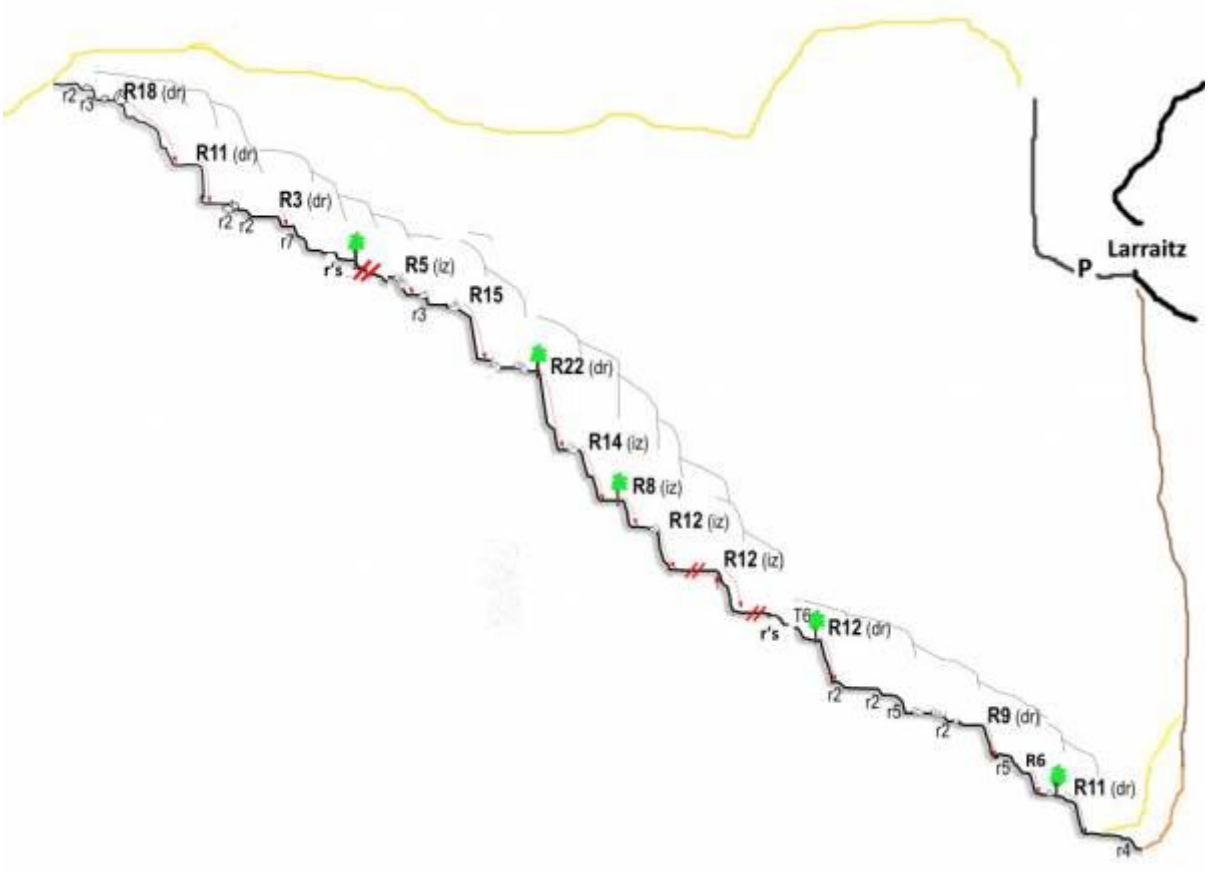

Return: (machine translated)
After the last rappel we arrive at a track that to the left takes us to the hermitage. A little before there is also a path to the left.
