| Summary: (machine translated) Very watery canyon with some deep pools, 40m high aquatic waterfall bypassable; very slippery; challenging tour; many abseils, slides and jumps; large catchment area; granite rock; very well secured; reservoir and reservoir above the canyon in Sellrain -Silz. Please note the information board about possible flushing; very dangerous at high water levels! Before entering the gorge, be sure to check the level of the measuring rod orographic left below the last basin (red area - do not enter, blue area or less - OK). many parts can be mastered mostly by sliding or jumping; the upper part of the Auerklamm (above the Wolfsbrücke) is not recommended, because you cross private property; is very much commercialized. | | |

| Access: (machine translated) From the Inntal freeway, drive into the Ötztal valley --> shortly after the Ambach inn, a road leads to the left towards the plain --> here, at the wooden bridge (exit), a shadow car can be parked and the water level (! Water drainage) be checked --> then you drive back on the main road to the village of Ötz--> from Ötz you then drive on the mountain road (Küthaistraße) to Ötzerau and a little further until shortly before Wies --> here still park before the sharp right bend in the bulge (space for about 5 cars). The parking lot is very heavily used by the outdoor clubs. Alternatively, you can park a little further up after the houses of Wies at the bridge on the left. | | |
| Approach: (machine translated) At the prominent orange survey point and a park bench, a path leads downhill to a wooden bridge. Here is the entry to the middle Auerklamm (rappel) which is not marked on the topographic view. The entry to the lower Auerklamm is reached via a path that branches off to the left of the small chapel, right by the wooden bridge. Steeply downhill it goes about 10 minutes until you reach the entry. If you want to climb the canyon completely, there is another entry above Taxegg. At the end of the village you come to a bridge, and then follow the course of the stream on the right side until you reach a small dam. Alternatively, park at a large gravel parking place on the right side of the Ötztaler Straße and walk for about 35 minutes along a steep hiking trail to the bridge. | | |

Tour: (machine translated)

Rappel over dry approx. 30m high rappel (sharp edge!) or bridge --> there follows a 10m rappel in pools --> over a fixed rope in the water it continues to the 15m slide below the Wolfsbrücke --> from the narrow pool with short fixed ropes rappel 5m into a winding place + 4m slide in pools --> After the pool there is li. an emergency exit (possibility to bypass the 40m waterfall) --> For bypassing go over the Wolfsbrücke and follow the hiking trail or. r. downhill past a lookout point --> right after that you can descend left. via via ferrata back into the stream --> If the emergency exit is not needed, continue with a 3-person slide combination (7m, 3m and 8m) --> After that comes the highest approx. 40m rappel point in the waterway! (Ropeway system possible, drill hooks on the large rock below left) --> after the high step over rock slabs downclimb and continue over the 6m rock slide (rappel possible) --> downclimb (6m) --> small step with fixed ropes --> another downclimb outside the waterway about 10m --> after the barbecue area comes a 7-8m slide which is partly overhanging (rappel possible) --> at the next downclimb you can rappel 5m and then jump 3-4m. --> after that you come to the chain anchor --> rappel over fixed ropes into a rock grotto --> a 6m jump into the whirlpool follows and a 10m sloping rock step where you rappel over the fixed rope into the "dome" --> after that you cross a narrow passage with the help of a steel rope --> a 10m jump into deep pools follows and a 5m jump --> two smaller rappel points lead to the last sloping ca. 30m waterfall --> after the waterfall the tour ends in front of the beautiful wooden bridge.

Return: (machine translated)

Exit on the right in front of the wooden bridge --> After the tour take a shuttle car (cab) up to the parking entry or alternatively: walk from the wooden bridge first on the right side of the road to the marked hiking trail and then follow the steep hiking trail up to the Wolf Bridge and parking entry (approx. 30 min)

Approach can be managed in about 35min from the bottom on foot. We were an experienced group and have taken from the bridge only 1h 50min! Some less interesting places were bypassed (already very well-trodden paths of commercial groups), partly fixed ropes are installed. Level at the measuring point was < blue, so very little (machine translated)
