Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Collection canyon, with somewhat precarious facilities (we are not aware that they have been updated).
To make it worthwhile it must be done in spring to carry water and to be able to combine it with Fontizialla.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Take the N123 to Campo, follow it towards Castejón de Sos.
Arriving at pk 402 we have the detour to the left to Viu and Senz. We will pass Senz first and then Viu to take a track that comes out at the end of the village.
About 500m later we cross the ravine of Viu and soon we have a track on the right, a place to park the car back or if we only have one car.
We will continue along the track into the valley of our ravine, we will pass some curves linked and a barrier, a couple of curves linked more and we reach the Ref de Yali, here comes a track on the right, we park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Along the track on the right that goes down from the refuge to the river bed.

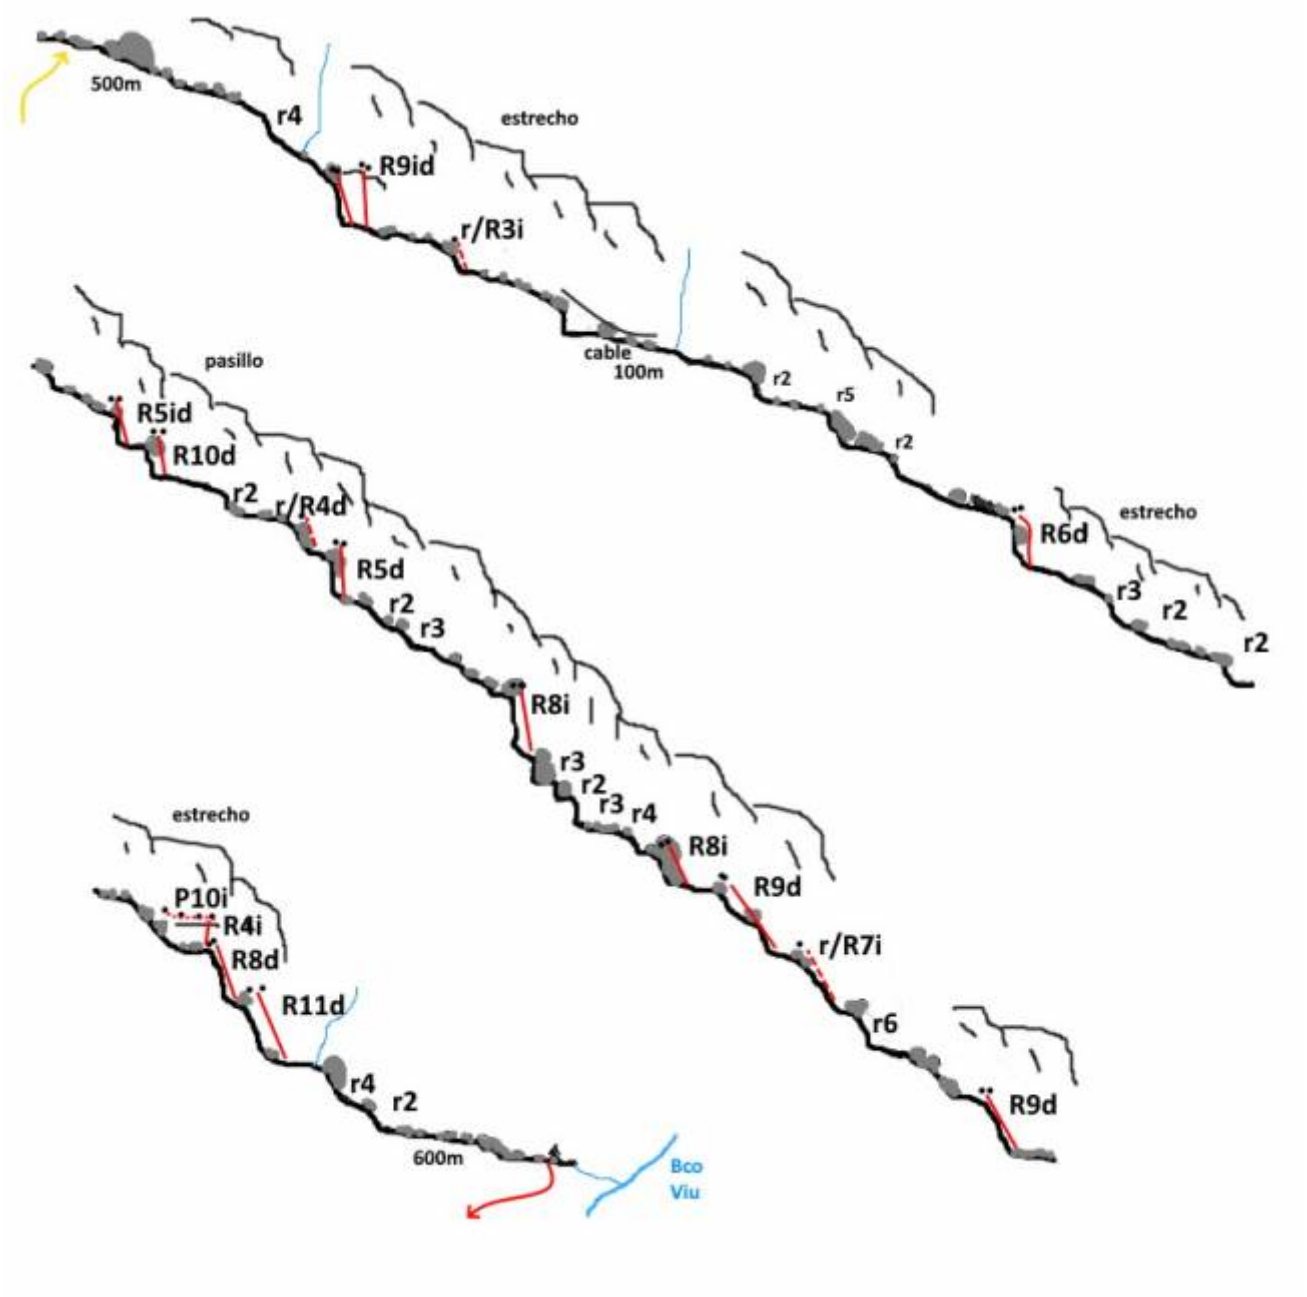

Tour: (machine translated)
Not too much interest unless we find it well watered

Return: (machine translated)
Before the confluence with the Bco de Viu we have a path on our right (on the orographic left of the Viu) that leads us to the track by which we will go up to the main track where we park.
