Summary: (machine translated) Beautiful single cells; clean water; works facility at entry; several walking and climbing passages; some exposed belays; several jumps possible with extra caution; short swimming passages; rather open canyon.
Hydrology:
Approach: (machine translated) If you start from the village of Alpe Orlo, you go up to the houses on the right --> there is a signpost with the signs Val Pilotera and white-blue marking (canyon) --> you follow this path past a fountain --> after about 15 min on the left there is a descent to the stream/water drainage (another white-blue marking on the stone) --> after the ladder you are in the stream (about 1100Hm). If you start at the houses of Barzena, you take the visible forest path Pra L'Oste (1147Hm) --> continue towards the stream and cross the suspension bridge --> after the bridge, look for a suitable place to descend into the stream and start from the water diversion.
Tour: (machine translated) The Pilotera is a rather open canyon that is also suitable for beginners, besides it offers a good alternative, if the Bodengo has too much water --> after the first 2 steps there is a blocky terrain --> after that walking and downclimb passages alternate with short rappels --> some rappels can be jumped after checking the water depth (a good jumping technique is a prerequisite) --> at a tributary from the right the canyon becomes more continuous and narrower --> at the sign "Pro Canyon" there is a short rappel place (narrow place) which can be jumped if there is a lot of water> at a metal sign "Pro Canyon" there is a short rappel (narrows) which can be problematic if there is a lot of water --> the canyon makes a 90° left/right bend here --> there are more nice downclimbs in cut canyons before the canyon opens below the bridge --> here is also the last rappel --> after that it goes over walking and downclimbing passages to the confluence with the Bodengo (approx. 730Hm).

Return: (machine translated)

At the exit (730Hm) the Pilotera and Boggia meet --> here you get out of the canyon before the stone bridge of Bedolina li --> after a short time and some stone steps you are on the road --> depending on where you parked the car back to the car

Automatisch importiert von Descente-Canyon.com für Canyon Pilotera Débit correct avant la prise d'eau. ~10l/s après. Énorme éboulement au milieu du canyon mais ça passe. (Quelle: <https://www.descente-canyon.com/canyoning/canyon-debit/2637/observations.html>)

Unfortunately, some of the anchors have been damaged. However, rappels are still possible on all of them. (machine translated)

Great tour with varied downclimbs and walking passages. Some extra effort - downclimbing through rockfall passage, but easily passable. Otherwise a great, scenic canyon with interesting abseils, beautiful pools & some high jumps. (machine translated)

There is a cliff in the canyon. The canyon is accessible. However, you need to allow a little more time to traverse the blocked terrain. The anchors are all in order. (machine translated)

Lovely tour, highly recommend the ascent on the west side over Pra l'Oste, which is beautiful. You can actually start at the bridge instead of at the waterworks, which gives you a very nice jump or slide extra! Definitely some long stretches of walking / climbing over and through huge blocks. Quite tiring, but with beautiful parts in between. Video here: https://youtu.be/vPIG7f0U0kQ?si=IG\_1BYtfCLmaaxcS
