Access: (machine translated)
Drive up to CIALOS and take the D242 toward ILET A CORDES.
Drive through the BRAS ROUGE canyon, past the first parking lot, and then through the GOBERT canyon.
100 meters further on, in a left-hand curve, there is space to park 2 or 3 vehicles near a table (elevation 1,280 m).

Approach: (machine translated)
As soon as you cross the bridge, you're already in the middle of the canyon.

Tour: (machine translated)
A series of slightly wet rope sections (8 easy rope sections ranging from 6 to 20 m).

Year-round... Except on weekends, when the CILAOS canyons are particularly crowded.

An easy canyon that’s perfect for entry into rapping.
Note: Do not confuse this with the nearby GOBERT Canyon...
Option to continue the route in GOBERT inf. (better option).

Return: (machine translated)
The canyon opens into GOBERT Canyon; from there, continue through the canyon until you reach the GR2. You can then either turn right onto the GR, which leads up to the road, or keep going until you find a trail that branches off to the left 200 meters further on. From this rugged trail, you’ll rejoin the GR; follow it downhill for 5 minutes to reach BRAS ROUGE, where you can take a real leap of about ten meters—which you can repeat as often as you like... Once you’re no longer thirsty, head back up the GR on the right side of BRAS ROUGE, following the same route you came on.
As soon as you’re on the road, turn left and you’ll reach your car in 5 minutes.
