Double weapons were installed in the three high rappels and in all other jumps we used natural weapons on rock hourglass or trees. Weapons should be improved especially in the second part, after the second big rappel (the one with water). Just below the first big vertical there is a clear trail on the right bank. When you get to the resurgence at elevation 970 on the left bank (with water house) there is a CAI trail that guides the valley. Photo 1: the large vertical without water Photo 2: the second vertical with water Photo 3: meander immediately after resurgence Photo 4: final jumps in forrous meander (machine translated)
