Gear:
Ropes: 2x 40m

Summary: (machine translated)
Three rappels - water-bearing in spring.

Hydrology: (machine translated)
Often dry.

Access: (machine translated)
From the A10 Ventimiglia-Genoa highway, take the Arma di Taggia exit and drive up the Argentina Valley on the SS548 to Molini di Triora. Continue on the SP52 to Triora and then to Loreto. Drive past Loreto (250 m) and park at the bridge over the Trono.

Approach: (machine translated)
Back to Loreto, after the left-hand bend take a good path that leads onto a path. Follow this to the left, it leads to a large house. From there, do not immediately cross to the left, but climb up a few meters to reach a better terrace. Easily reach the left bank, descend a little to the starting point of the route.

Tour: (machine translated)
A C10, then the beautiful C38, a third rappel exits a few meters from the car.
The route is "poorly rated" due to its shortness, but is recommended in spring when there is enough water to supplement another rappel in the valley.
