Summary: (machine translated)
Simple canyon that in summer can dry out and can be done for beginners. Its final 20m waterfall is one of the best in the area and the most remarkable of this descent.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
We have to get to Competa. To do this if we go from Malaga we turn off to Algarrobo on the A7206 and follow it to Competa.
If we go from Nerja we turn off past Torrox on the A7207 to Competa.
Once in the village we must go towards Casa de la Mina and Puerto del Collado, from this port we will follow the track on the right that goes halfway up the slope towards the "Hotel Casa Mina". In the Hotel, we will take the track on the right that goes down to the "Fabrica de la Luz" and here we leave the car to return (this track may not be in good condition).
With the other car we will continue towards Fuente Juan Rojo, we will leave it behind and we will arrive at the next stream next to the farmhouse of Daire, it is the stream of Magadillos.

Approach: (machine translated)
We go down through brambles towards the stream, then we just have to follow it until we find the first difficulties.

Tour: (machine translated)
The part of the Magadillos stream is completely full of weeds and brambles. The Arroyo Moreno is more interesting because of its magnificent waterfall, and the final part up to the Fábrica de Luz is a walk along the river.

Return: (machine translated)
If we have been able to park at the factory, the return is easy, otherwise we have to go up the track to where we have left the car.

Several anchors are in poor condition (bent chemical anchors). The first rappel has a lot of friction, making retrieval difficult. The location is incorrect. It’s marked here as if it were in Frigiliana, but it’s actually in Cómpeta. (machine translated)
