From Porto Novo in western direction ('Tarrafal') you pass the ital. Cement factory (on the right of the road) and after about 10 km you reach the Ponte Sul (150 m above sea level), which spans the Ribeira das Patas. After the bridge, the road to Tarrafal turns left, but we turn right and after about 3 km we reach Lagedos.At the first houses and the bridge over a side 'stream' of the Patas is the place where we have to organize our return transport at the end of our tour.Voererst but it continues steadily uphill. About 3 km after the village, at a bridge (about 600m a.s.l.) several short rappel canyons descend to the right to the riverbed of the Patas (cf. Internet sites).We continue, pass some houses on the road, which now makes a sharp right turn. This is followed by a long left turn and another sharp right turn (about 6 km from Lagedos). Here the road bridge spans a side 'stream' of the Patas, which we enter under the bridge (Rib. das Lajes or Layes). If we were to continue uphill on the road for another 500 m or so, we would come to the village of Cha de Morte.

Approach: (machine translated)
On a dirt road in the side valley downhill we reach the Rib. das Patas.

Varied canyons hike

Return: (machine translated)
After one of several narrows, a sloping slope descends at the beginning of a long right-hand bend of the canyon. The rising stone walls support the path that we now go up. We reach the houses at the southern edge of Lagedos and soon stand at the pick-up point already mentioned above.
