Summary: (machine translated) Short but very technical descent with great flow and water movement.
Hydrology:
Access: (machine translated) From Bagnères de Bigorre or from Arreau crossing the Col d'Aspin on the D918 to Payolle. Here we turn off on the D113 towards the Hourquette d'Ancizan and after 200m we take a track on the right towards some meadows. Once it ends we can continue carefully along the shepherds' track until near the Courtaou des Esclozes without crossing the river. We parked Approach: (machine translated) We will continue along the track/path that climbs to the top of the valley on the right bank of the origin. At 600m we will see to our right the narrowing of Pitch. Once we pass it we can go down to the stream.
Tour: (machine translated) Narrowing of 100m in length with 3 short but very technical waterfalls with many water movements. In the third one the first one to descend is better to make an anchor and then guide the rest. The first rappel is done from the trees and the second has a small climb for the somewhat exposed installation but with a spit to be able to secure.
Return: (machine translated) After the third rappel the canyon opens up again and we go out to the right to take the path up. You can't get lost.
