Summary: (machine translated)
Simple canyon perfect for initiation.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
From Sant Llorenç de Morunys take the LV-4241 road, towards Berga. Just after passing the bridge of Llinars, we will take the asphalted track on our left, we will pass the camping d'aigua d'ora and a bridge, until we arrive at the farmhouse of Sorribes, which will be on our right.

Approach: (machine translated)
From here we will have to walk. We will take the path that comes out in front of the farmhouse (yellow marks) and we will follow it for about 1 hour, until on the right hand side there is a path marked with an x, (attention, we must not reach the farmhouse that is seen at the bottom) we will go down and it will lead us to the bed of the ravine.

Tour: (machine translated)
Simple ravine, with a first part of limestone normally dry, we will only find water in the pools. In the second part of the ravine formed of conglomerate, the water makes an appearance, gaining interest and beauty.
In summary, we will find an easy and well excavated ravine, with short rappels, some jumps and projections (some delicate).

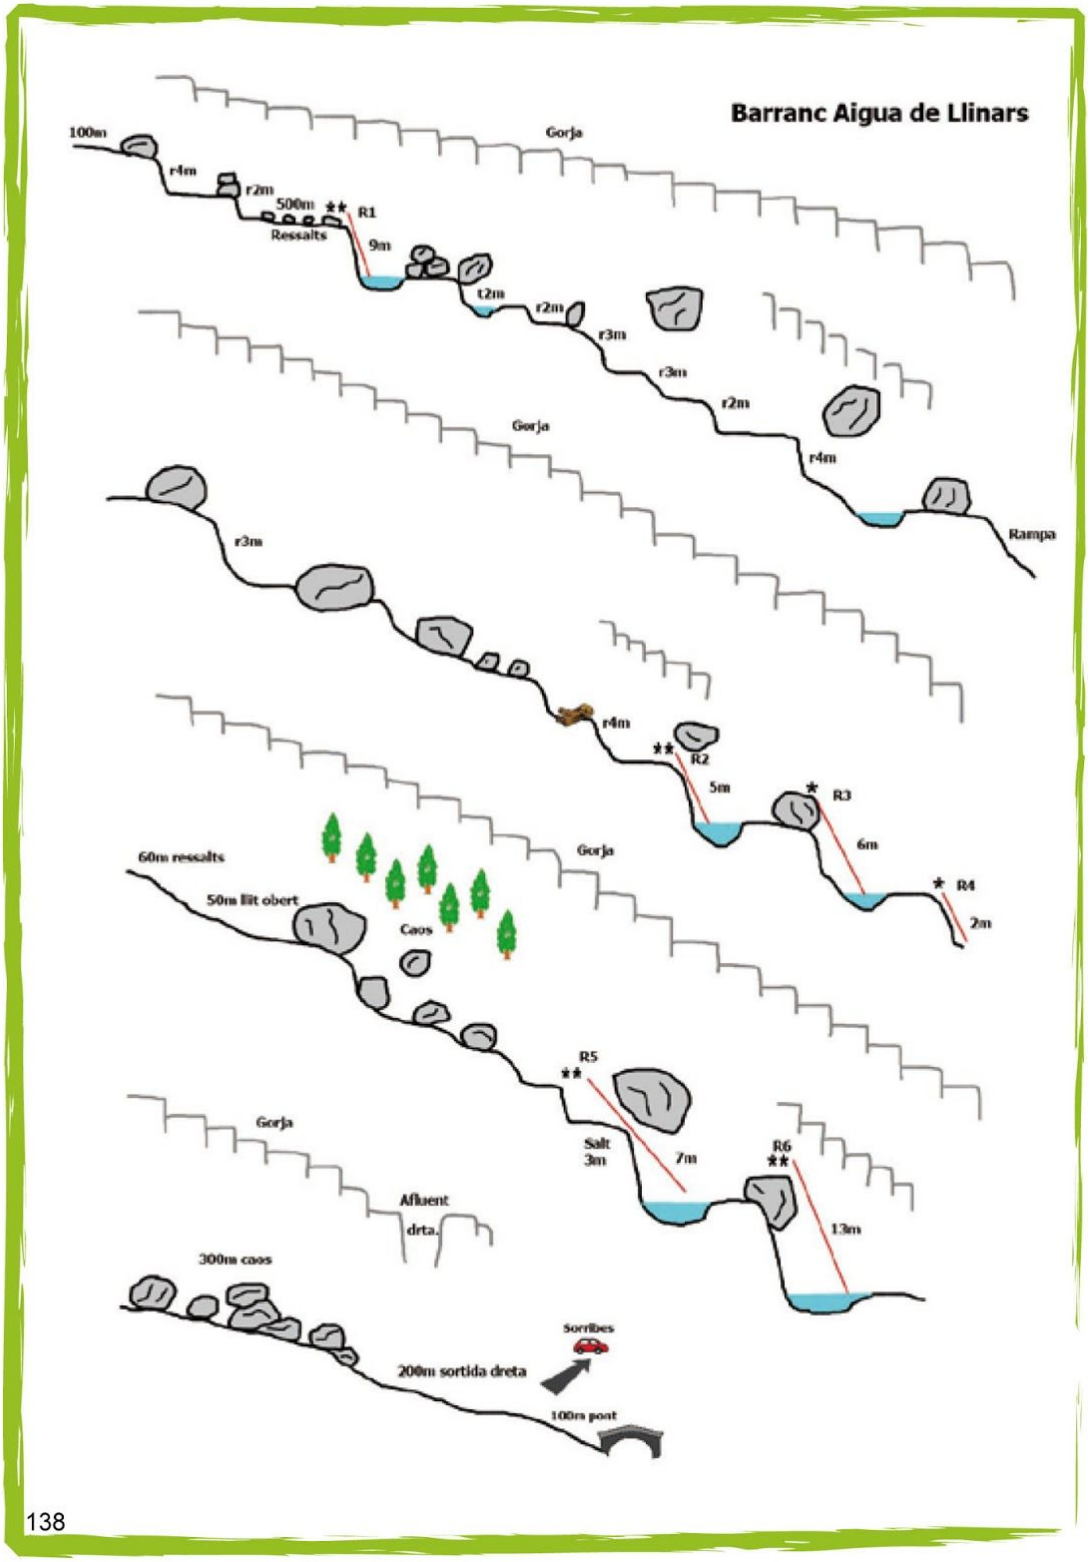

Return: (machine translated)
After the last rappel we will walk about 500 m., until we find a sign on our right, we will go up the path until we reach a meadow, which we will cross upwards until we reach the farmhouse where we have parked the car.
